EMPLOYES OF CITY IN FIGHT WITH COUNCIL

Proposal to Take Away Right of Appeal to Civil Service When Discharged Stirs Up Row Among Payroll Men

Plan Would Violate Spirit of Charter, Is Claim; Morse Says 'Created Is Greater Than Those Who Created It'

A city-wide movement to oppose any proposed charter amendments which would take away from a discharged employee the right to appeal to the civil service board will be sponsored by the 1200 members of the Civil Service Employees' Association of Oakland, it was announced today.

While members of this association and of the civil service board were joining today in an attack on the council's action which would make each city official "the judge and jury of his own acts," members of the board of freeholders which drew the city charter are concerned in the statement made in the council rooms that the civil service board was never intended to act as a court of appeal.

Declarations by Commissioner Edwards that "the civil service board is fundamentally an employment agency and that it was not intended to become a court of appeal," are variously described by the board which drew the charter as "ridiculous," "nonsensical" and "without a particle of truth." Those members of the freeholders board who could be seen today united in the declaration that the right to hear appeals was put in the charter as a means to combat the spoils system and that there is no question but that it was the intent that one of the main duties of the board was to hear appeals of discharged officials.

EDWARDS QUESTIONS CIVIL SERVICE IDEA

Edwards' statement in the council rooms was:

"The civil service board is fundamentally an employment agency and will continue that way. It was not intended that it should become a court of appeal. The civil service board must be as it was originally intended. How can efficiency be enforced if a commissioner has no power to discharge his own employees?"

The section of the charter at issue is headed "Appeals." It is section 82 and reads:

"Any person suspended, fined or discharged (and any person whose order of suspension above provided for has been revoked) may, within five days from the making by a commissioner (or the auditor) of the order suspending, fining or discharging him, appeal therefrom to the civil service board, which shall fully hear and determine the matter."

Of the original fifteen freeholders Richard M. Hamb and Raymond B. Felton are now employed at the city hall and are members of the employees' organization which is protesting against the council action. Harrison S. Robinson, William C. Clark and Hugh Hogan are out of the city.

FREEHOLDER DEFENDS CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

"It is perfectly ridiculous to pretend that there was no intent to make the civil service board a court of appeal," said A. H. Elliott, one of the freeholders. "That certainly was the intent and that is why the section is in the charter. It was created as a protest against the spoils system and to give the employee a right to be heard."

"Undoubtedly the intent was to give the right of appeal, otherwise it would not be so stated in the charter. There is no doubt as to the wording of the section nor as to its meaning," said John J. McDonald, another freeholder, today.

"It gives the discharged man the right to have his case heard by a body other than the one that appointed him," said Albert Kayser, "and when the charter was framed the freeholders intended that this right should be given. It was certainly the intention of the charter to give the employee the right of appeal."

DENIAL OF APPEAL NOT INTENDED BY CHARTER

"If there were no right of appeal it would be a return to the spoils system," said Richard Hamb, "and there can be no doubt as to the intent of the charter."

"The language of the charter section is clear and not capable of any misconstruction," said R. H. Chamberlain.

Commissioner F. F. Morse, who learned today that the civil service board had flayed the action of the city council in endeavoring to curtail the scope of the board's work, issued the following statement:

"When we have reached a period where the created is greater than the creator it is time to go fishing."

The council, according to Morse, created the civil service board and now finds the board reviewing the council's actions

The civil service board's protest against the council action is contained in a formal statement which reads.

"Commissioners Edwards, Soderberg and Morse, by their action in the city council, in which they propose to take away the right of appeal of civil service employees in this city, have struck one of the most vital blows at the merit system of public service. The taking away of the right of appeal of a civil service employee completely nullifies civil service and enables elective officials to build up a political organization to perpetuate themselves in office.

CHARTER QUOTED TO SUPPORT APPEAL

"When the new charter was adopted by the people of this city, in 1910, they placed therein certain civil service provisions, largely patented after the civil service laws in opera-

Maniac Fights Three Police in City's Bastile

Patrick McKeegan, jailer, was bitten on one cheek and bruised in a jail battle to subdue Theodore Block, of Eleventh and Washington streets, taken to jail last night for diagnosis of his mental condition.

At 6:30 this morning McKeegan had to be treated at the emergency hospital and Block as well. The prisoner had cuts on the face and head. He is now in a padded cell.

Block drew general attention and frightened many persons last night as he passed along the streets making wild observations. He assumed that the world was about to end; that a fence should surround the world to keep everybody else but bathing girls out; that he wanted an automobile to make his way to another planet.

He was found after he had telephoned to a central girl and demanded that she take $300 to police station at once for him. F. A. Petersen, policeman, took Block to the jail. It was while there that he sprung upon McKeegan from behind, biting him.

In the ensuing struggle Officers George Burbank and George Mullholland had to help McKeegan and use their clubs on the apparent maniac.

Women Abandon That $3 a Head Dinner to Cox

Enthusiasm of Local Democrats Not Equal to Srtain, It Was Feared

The high cost of living and the low state of finances have caused the Women's Democratic club of Alameda county to abandon all plans for the dinner at Hotel Oakland on Saturday night at which the chief of their party, Governor James Cox of Ohio, nominee for the presidency, was to be honored.

Whether 600 Democrats or near Democrats would part from three dollars a plate to listen to party policies put forward by the presidential candidate when later in the evening he might be heard in the municipal auditorium without cost, was the question which the women had to determine in the special meeting called by Mrs. Carrie Hoyt of Berkeley, county president, to arrange details for the contemplated festivity. It was decided after much debate the proposed banquet did not promise well.

MONEY TO FEED ENTIRE COX RETINUE LACKING.

Still another consideration was the large retinue with which Governor Cox is traveling. His personal party includes twenty-nine persons Honor must have been done these as well as their chief, representing to the Democratic women a considerable investment.

"We could not see our way to carry out the plans for a dinner," said Mrs. Hoyt this morning." Democrats in Alameda county are not particularly wealthy and have no funds upon which to call for such purposes. We decided that we would cancel all arrangements. This has been done."

CANDIDATE TO SPEAK IN MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM.

Governor Cox will speak in the municipal auditorium at a party rally on Saturday night, however. Another reason given for the abandonment of the dinner plans and the necessity for an additional address, is the condition of the candidate's voice. Robert Fitzgerald will be chairman of the evening. A long list of vice chairmen will be named at a meeting of Democratic leaders tonight.

Organization of the Democratic county central committee was completed yesterday with the naming of the following officers: Chairman, H. H. McPike; vice chairman, Mrs. Carrie Hoyt; secretary, William B. Bunker; treasurer, James H. Moffitt.

Col. Roosevelt Family Working for G. O. P.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Every Roosevelt in the family of the late revered Colonel, is in the harness actively working for Harding and Coolidge, according to an announcement from Western Republi- the continual use of the name by the Democrats with the inference that the vice-presidential nominee is a son of the former President.

The statement says, "Who has a better right to speak for Theodore Roosevelt in this campaign, his sons, his daughter and his sister, or the fifth cousin, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who always opposed Colonel Roosevelt, politically, when he was alive?"

Captain Archie Roosevelt is the organizer of Republican clubs in the midwest region. Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, wife of the representative in Congress and daughter of Colonel Roosevelt, is campaigning Ohio for Harding.

Theodore Roosevelt Jr. is on a speaking campaign through the West. The late Colonel's sister, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, is busy in the New York fight.

Four-Year-Old Boy Struck By Motor

Phillip Littlejohn, four years old, of 2632 San Pablo avenue, was struck down by a machine at Twenty-eighth and San Pablo avenue today and taken to the emergency hospital by the driver, O. E. Wood, of 2826 Brookdale avenue. The boy received superficial injuries about the head and body and was taken to his home after treatment. Wood told the police that the boy dodged from behind a street car directly in the path of his machine. Wood was not arrested.

OAKLAND IS NAMED PORT BY S. S. LINE

Atlantic-Gulf and Pacific S.S. Co. Selects This City as Home Port on Paicfic for Regular Scheduled Cargoes

Parr Terminal Docks to Be Used; Dredging of Estuary Makes Coming Here Possible of Deep-Sea Freighters

Announcement was made today that Oakland will be made the principal port of call on the Pacific coast for the Atlantic-Gulr and Pacific Steamship Line. This is the first Atlantic seaboard line to name Oakland as a regular port of call.

The docks of the Parr Terminal Company on the city's western waterfront will serve as the Oakland terminal for the steamship line, according to the announcement made by T. J. Wade, general freight agent and Pacific coast representative of the steamship line.

The other ports of the Atlantic-Gulf and Pacific Line are Baltimore, Philadelphia, Mobile and Los Angeles. The first steamer of this line to call at Oakland will be the Cape Romain, due to arrive about October 4, with a general cargo. A return cargo is now being assembled at the Parr terminal.

REGULAR SCHEDULE FOR OAKLAND

A regular schedule, which will bring a boat every two weeks to Oakland, is being arranged.

The announcement of the coming of the Atlantic-Gulf and Pacific Company to Oakland follows on top of a recent announcement that Oakland is to become a port of call for Pacific Mail steamships operating from Baltimore.

The first vessel to arrive for this line is the West Kasson, a shipping board vessel, which recently completed a trip around the world, and which is now on its way here from Baltimore with a cargo This vessel is to dock at the Oakland municipal wharves and its freight will be handled by the Lawrence Warehouse Company.

The Pacific Mail, has five vessels on the Baltimore run and has announced that hereafter in all cases where there is sufficient cargo to warrant, the vessels will dock in Oakland to unload shipments and will call here for eastbound material.

Ocean Traffic Manager Pinkston of the Lawrence Company announced today that there was enough business originating in the Eastbay to insure steady service.

In addition to service originating here for the east, the company is assembling freight for the same ship and line to go to the Orient from Oakland docks.

DREDGING MAKES COMING POSSIBLE

The coming of the Pacific Mail steamships to Oakland is made possible with the completion of the dredging work of the city on the estuary. At the municipal wharves the dredging work which has been going on there for three months has been completed this week, and the low tide channel is unformly 28 feet deep.

Indicative of Oakland's harbor development is the fact that the largest vessel ever to dock at the municipal wharves is now unloading its cargo there. It is the Norwegian ship, "George Washington," which is unloading a 10,000-ton cargo of glass and which was brought here direct from Antwerp, Belgium.

Seattle Being Combed for S. F. Kidnaped Boy

SEATTLE, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Eva Randall Semple of San Francisco, is here today searching for her 7-year-old son, Stanley Semple Jr., who she alleges was kidnaped by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Rauen, alias Mary Brown, and brought here aboard the steamship Admiral Dewey. The mother says she arrived by train two hours after the boat landed. A complaint charging kidnaping has been filed against the older woman but the police have been unable to find her or the child.

Italian Farmers Seize Estate of Prince, Plow It

(By International News Service)

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Italian peasants have begun to seize farm lands, according to a Rome despatch to L'Information today. Farm laborers on the estate of Prince Tarleria, a rich Italian land-owner, took forcible possession of the property and immediately began digging up the land for their own use, the despatch added. Soldiers in the Albano district have taken over much church property. In the same region a huge farm was seized by 400 Italian laborers.

How Do You Say It? Speak Up All Purists!

Elam Raine, 5445 Miles avenue, who clearly and correctly is a purist in such matters, has called in his stenographer and dictated the following which, though it is put in the form of an interrogation may be suspected of subtly implied criticism:

Writes Raine to The TRIBUNE:

Please tell me how to pronounce correctly the name of our city. Everyone seems to have a different way of saying it.

It is a beautiful name on paper and in sentiment. But it often falls out of the mouth most unprettily. Here are some of the ways I seem to hear it:

Oaklun, Oaklund, O-klund, Oaklan, O-kland, Oaklin, Oaklind, Oaklen, Oaklend, Oak'l'n, O-k'l'n, Oakelen, Oakelun, Oakelan, Oakelin, Oakeland.

I cannot believe that any of these is proper, and yet I am backward about making any claims as to what I consider the correct pronunciation.

Will you please tell me the correct way?

It would appear that others may be no less modest than the letter scrivener and the answer remains to be determined by a representative gathering or possibly a referendum.

Petersen Quits Legion Post to Defeat Morse

Twice-Discharged Inspector to Announce Candidacy for Commissioner

Confirming hints that he would run for commissioner of public health and safety in opposition to F. F. Morse, incumbent, Walter J. Petersen, former chief of police inspectors, last night placed in the hands of the executive committee of Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, his resignation as post commander.

Petersen, on Saturday, was removed from his place as captain of inspectors for a second-time, baving resumed his authority upon court order but 24 hours previous.

The rules of the American Legion require that no officer be actively engaged in politics.

The resignation which Petersen directed to his post comrades said:

"In view of my recent announcement that I expect to be a candidate for commissioner of the City of Oakland, and in view of our established custom that no officers of the Post of the American Legion should be a candidate for public office, I hereby present my resignation as commander of Oakland Post, No. 5, to take effect at once.

I regret the necessity of this as I have the interest of the American Legion at heart, and shall ever work for its interest and try to uphold its high aims and policies; but as I would not have it appear that I, in any manner, sought to interest the American Legion in my favor for elective office. I feel that I must take this position at this time.

Assuring you of my continued activity in the affairs of the Post as a man in the ranks, I am

W. J. PETERSEN.

Subsequent to publicity given the resignation Petersen today made the following explanatory statement regarding it:

I would not be compelled to resign as commander of Oakland Post, No. 5, until I had filed papers declaring my intention to run against Commissioner Morse at the next election for commissioner of public health and safety. But to avoid creating a dissension of opinion I have tendered my resignation so that people may not think that I am furthering my political ambition by remaining commander of Oakland Post, No. 5. My resignation will take effect at once It will officially be passed on at the next meeting of the post executive committee. I expect to continue the same active interest in post matters as a man of the ranks that I displayed as commander.

Acceptance of the resignation by the executive committee will automatically elevate Senior Vice-Commander Mellman to the executive position, which he will hold for two months, when a new election of officers by the legionaries is due.

Three Track Sleepers Are Killed By Train

ELLSWORTH, Kas., Sept. 15.—A coroner's jury today decided that three men killed by a train near Arcola, Kansas, yesterday, came to their death as a result of going to sleep on the tracks. The identification of the men is as yet very hazy except one is believed to be named Carwile, from Los Angeles, another from Kansas City and the third presumably from the East. The men wore American Legion buttens.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—One of three young men found at Arcola, Kas., today was believed to be Edward R. Carwile of this city, according to J. F. Carwile, uncle of the man. News of the death has reached his mother, he said.

BLOOD RUNS AT PRIMARY IN CHICAGO

One Man Killed, Many Beat Up at Polls By Armed Guards in Faction Fight Between Lowden, Thompson

Thousands of Gun Men Are Ready to Protect Interests of Rivals; Sheriff Appoints 5000 Deputies for Peace

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—One man killed, three kidnaped, several beaten and a half dozen arrested on charges ranging from election fraud to assault to commit murder marked the local balloting in the Illinois primary election today. Michael Fennessy, aged 35, a precinct worker, was shot and killed at a Seventeenth ward polling place by a policeman. Detectives who arrested the slayer said he had been drinking.

One political worker was beaten and robbed by kidnapers. Two other politicians who were kidnaped have not been found.

In a free-for-all fight in a Second ward polling place a policeman was beaten into unconsciousness and a deputy sheriff kidnaped by a band of armed men who attempted to vote twice.

The chief fight in Chicago and throughout the State is between the "regular" Republican forces, headed by Governor Frank O. Lowden, and the so-called "Tammany" organization, of which Mayor Uilliam Hale Thompson of Chicago is the head.

The Lowden ticket was headed by William B. McKinley, candidate for U. S. Senator, and John G. Oglesby for governor The Thompson slate was led by Frank I. Smith for senator and Len R. Small for governor.

The Thompson forces allege that Sheriff Peters has appointed the deputies in an attempt to "steal the election." They declare the deputies have no legal authority. Conflicts of authority between the deputies and the Chicago police are feared.

The Lowden forces are predicting a sweeping victory, counting chiefly on the "down State" vote, which means the vote in cities and counties outside of Chicago. The Thompson organization is confident that it will draw sufficient strength from "down State" districts to reinforce the huge vote it expects in Chicago and insure victory throughout the State.

Early reports from the polling places, which opened at 6 o'clock, indicate a heavy vote is being cast.

SLATE CANDIDATES WIN IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Republican and Democratic candidates who received the endorsement of the unofficial State convention at Saratoga, won decisive victories in all State-wide contests in yesterday's New York State primary.

With 2549 districts missing out of a total of 7274 in the State, Nathan L. Miller of Syracuse led State Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara for Republican nomination for governor by 77,782 votes, Senator Thompson's name, however, will appear on the ballot in November as the prohibition candidate for governor. Governor Alfred E Smith was renominated without opposition by the Democrats. U. S. Senator James Wadsworth, Jr., backed by the Republican State organization, won an easy victory. Lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker apparently defeated Mayor George Lunn of Schenectady for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator by a vote of more than two to one. Harriet May Mills, unopposed Democratic candidate for secretary of state, was the only woman nominated for State office by the two major parties.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE STEALS DEMOCRATS

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—A sweeping victory for candidates endorsed by the Non-Partisan League running on petitions in the Democratic primaries was indicated early today by incomplete returns from Tuesday's State-wide primary election.

James M. Collins, farmer-labor gubernatorial candidate, was chosen to lead the Democratic ticket for governor, while Non-Partisan League candidates for other State and legislative offices were practically sure of victory. Supreme Court Justice Tulley Scott is the only bona fide Democrat who has a chance for victory, according to

Seizure of Tulare Orchards Valued At $900,000 and Town Property In Visalia Aimed at in Action

VETERANS ASK STATUTE ON LAND

VISALIA, Cal., Sept. 15.—Attorney General U. S. Webb of California today started a series of actions designed to disposess Japanese of land in Tulare county alleged to be held by them in violation of the anti-alien land laws.

Suits filed by Webb in the superior court here today were as follows:

Against H. Sumida and the Elva Land company, et al, to disposess the defendants of 6000 acres of orchard and vineyard land valued at $900,000.

Against K. Sumada and others to disposess them of property in the town of Visalia.

The district attorney's office of Tulare county is co-operating with Webb in the actions.

The complaints allege that the land is owned by Japanese not citizens of this country and under the anti-alien land law the property should revert to the State.

VETERANS PLEAD FOR LAND RESTRICTIONS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Exclusion of all Japanese immigrants was urged in a resolution adopted unanimously by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, holding their annual encampment here Abrogation of the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan, and amendment of the federal constitution so as to make children born in this country eligible for citizenship only if both parents were eligible, were also favored

The resolution, introduced by Commander J W Jones, Portland, Oregon, declared the Japanese immigration question was of national scope and not confined to the Pacific Coast.

"The Japanese question is a source of acute and constantly increasing [illegible]," said the preamble, "and in time this irritation cannot fail to end in grave international friction unless vigorous steps are taken to allay it. We acknowledge and respect the virtues of thrift and industry which characterize the Japanese race, but if the Japanese are not assimilable, those virtues instead of being a contribution to our national character are a weapon."

The Japanese ambassador has no authority to enter into agreement, it was learned, but he is directed to recommend an agreement to his government.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The question of racial equality for the Japanese, over which the Versailles peace conference nearly split, will be one of the most important problems confronting the general assembly of the League of Nations when it meets November 15 in Geneva, in pursuance to the call of President Wilson.

Having failed to get such recognition in the treaty of Versailles, owing largely to opposition of American and British colonial delegates to the peace conference Japan now proposes to bring the matter before the league assembly for final settlement, it was learned today.

The belief was expressed in certain quarters that if Japan fails then to win the racial recognition that would give her emigrants equal right and privileges with those of any other country, she will withdraw from the league.

In preparation for the fight she expects to make, Japan has just retained accommodations at Geneva for the largest delegation that has manifested its intention of attending the assembly meeting. In addition to her three official delegates, she has made arrangements for housing sixty-two other representatives.

According to rumors current in Paris diplomatic circles, Viscount Ischii, the Japanese foreign minister, may himself be present to conduct the negotiations.

Cork Mayor Tells Wife of His Desire for Simple Funeral Ceremony

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Terence MacSwiney, hunger striking lord mayor of Cork, was in a raving delirium during a great part of last night, his sister Annie declared today as she left Brixton prison, after visiting him.

Imagining he was leading a Sinn Fein army, MacSwiney talked wildly and shouted commands, his sister said. This morning, realizing he might betray Sinn Fein secrets while raving, MacSwiney asked his relatives to forcibly gag him if he became delirious while prison doctors were present

PHYSICIANS PUZZLED AT MAYOR' FIGHT

Physicians were puzzled over MacSwiney's grip on life. Although practically in a comatose condition the hunger striking prisoner was conscious. He talked with his wife yesterday, whispering to her his desires as to funeral rites. He asked her to arrange for simple Catholic services with the funeral orations all in the Irish tongue.

Despite MacSwiney's request, Sinn Fein leaders said they planned to make the services the greatest demonstration in Ireland's history.

Physicians reiterated their assertions MacSwiney will be given nourishment when he becomes unconscious.

NINE EX-LORD MAYORS APPEAL TO PREMIER

Nine former lord mayors of Cork signed a joint appeal to Premier Lloyd George. Members of the Irish "peace conference committee" wired the premier that the freeing of MacSwiney and other hunger strikers from Cork was "indispensable to a successful Irish peace" This was signed by Sir Horace Plunkett, Maj. Generals Hickie and MacGowan and others.

Mary MacSwiney appealed to Americans to force their government to call in British loans. Her idea was that withdrawal of support from British industry would mean a virtual blockade of England and that her brother's freedom could be forced thereby.

Eaton left Reno yesterday for Elko, Nev., with mail plane A-1. According to advices to the air mail service here today he was last seen flying over Desert, Nevada.

In addition to the two army planes sent out from Mather Field, each carrying an observer as well as a pilot, Lieutenant H. E. Metcalf of the army air service left by rail to direct the search for the missing pilot.

Air service officials fear that Eaton met with an accident at some desert location and if alive is probably unable to secure help.

RENO, Sept. 15.—Pilot Benton, flying a privately owned plant with a short flying radius, left here at 9 o'clock this morning to cover part of the route which Eaton should have taken. Two large army planes from Mather Field will proceed to Fallon Nev., and a field radio station will be set up there The two planes will make a complete reconnaissance of the northern part of he state between Reno and Elko in search of the missing plane

ITALIAN LAW FRAMED TO BACK LABOR

Socialists to Attempt to Make Legal Occupation of Plants and Operation of Factories Under Rule of Workers

All Italy Enmeshed in Web of Soviet Deceit: Faces Ruin While the Red Agitators Hamper Peace Negotiations

MILAN, Sept. 15.—Plans for a law providing for the collaboration of workmen in the management of industrial plants, which will be presented at the next session of the Italian parliament, have been placed in the hands of a commission appointed by socialist members of the House of Deputies.

Leaders declare that occupation of plants throughout the country will continue until employers' privileges are suppressed and the new rights of labor acknowledged. While a majority of employers strongly resist the workmen's scheme for assisting in the work of management, there is an important section which supports a suggestion that the men's scheme be accepted on general lines, in order that the conflict going on at present may be ended.

Negotiations between the two sides in the conflict have been rendered more difficult by the work of irresponsible agitators.

ROME, Sept. 15.—Solution of the economic controversy in Italy has passed into the hands of the Confederation of Industries, representing more than $2,000,000,000, according to Senator Contti.

The meeting of the Confederation of Industries today in Milan was expected to reach epoch-making decision affecting Italy's national future

While the manufacturers were not opposed to putting the workers to share in the profits and allowing them representation in the administration of each industry, they will oppose any attempt of the unions to intervene in the active management of the factories or to place limitations of the right of technical and financial directors, it was learned from an authoritative source.

ITALY ENMESHED IN WEB OF RED DECEIT.

Conflicting elements, each seeking to employ the economic crisis in Italy to attain their own ends, have succeeded in so involving the situation it has become a maze of industrial, social and political cross-currents.

Despite the growing optimism in official circles, the situation apparently is becoming graver, owing to the inability of any one to coalesce these elements in attaining a common end. According to the best available information today the various phases of the situation were:

The extreme radicals in Italy, abetted by the corresponding element in adjacent countries, were striving to influence the workers to learn steps they have taken in political action, overthrowing the monarchy and setting up a Soviet government embodying all the principles of the third internationale.

MANUFACTURERS BLOCK LABOR SETTLEMENTS

The manufacturers were blocking any attempt at a settlement that would imply moral victory for their employees.

The great majority of workmen who at first began taking over the metal factories, merely to prevent a lockout, were gradually increasing their demands as they realize their power. It appeared certain they were determined not to return to the status quo, and that the proposed profit-sharing plan is the least they will accept. The government, which has stepped in to referee the present negotiations between manufacturers and workers at Milan, is still inclined to maintain a "hands off" policy. But the government has issued a warning that armed intervention will follow immediately any attempt to throw the conflict into politics.

MOVEMENT SPREADING TO OTHER INDUSTRIES

From the metal workers the movement has spread to the farms, the mines and the chemical industry. Railway workers, cooperating with the strikers, have forced evacuation of troop trains in the northern province.

Government officials and the Italian press express confidence a satisfactory settlement will be speedily reported at the Milan conference. Workers, particularly in Turin, were willing to go their own way irrespective of the action of their representatives. In view of this it was believed some difficulty would be experienced in readjusting the situation even if a basis for settlement is found.

There is violent fighting in the sector of Vladimir Volynski, on the road to Brest Litovsk and on the Bug river. We have occupied Bogatin (Rohatyn) capturing cannon and rifles. "On the Crimean front we repulsed the enemy in the region of Hauttekmak."

Navy Seizes More Oil From Shell Co.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 15.—A detachment of United States Marines, commanded by Commander Charles Kerrick, yesterday broke the locks at the plant of the Shell Oil Company and seized 3500 barrels of fuel oil after the officials of the company had refused to honor an order for that amount at the navy's price of $2 per barrel. The company demanded $2.35.

The oil seized will only fill requirements until the end of the week and more oil will probably be seized. E. R. Farley, manager of the Shell Oil Company's fuel department, said steps would be taken to collect $2.35 for the oil taken.

World Court Proposed by League of Nations Chiefs

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The headquarters of the League of Nations today made public the text of the project for a permanent court of international justice, as adopted by The Hague committee of jurists, of which Elihu Root was a member.

The questions which the court is competent to determine between members of the league are given as follows:

The interpretation of a treaty.

Any question of international law.

The existence of any fact which, if established, would constitute a breech of an international obligation.

The nature or extent of reparation to be made for the breach of an international obligation.

The interpretation of a sentence passed by the court.

PLAN OF COURT

The court shall consist of fifteen members—eleven judges and four deputy judges. The number of judges and deputy judges may be hereafter increased by the assembly upon the proposal of the council of the League of Nations to a total of fifteen judges and six deputy judges.

The manner of choosing the judges by the different national groups is provided. The members of the court are elected for nine years. The president and vice-president of the court serve for three years. The seat of the court is established at The Hague, a session shall be held each year, beginning June 15, and an extraordinary session may be called whenever necessary by the president of the court, who must reside at The Hague. The full court shall sit, but if eleven judges are not available nine judges shall suffice to constitute the court. Three judges sit in chambers annually to hear and determine summary procedure.

INTERNATIONAD LAWS

The court also shall take cognizance of all disputes of any kind which may be submitted to it by a general or particular convention between the parties. The court in considering questions applies international conventions, international customs, general principles of law recognized by civilized nations and decisions and teachings of the most highly qualified publicists of various nations.

Wood Favors Schools Be Open Year Round

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15.—That the public schools should be kept open all the year and that vacations should be abolished for all children between the ages of 8 and 16 years, is the policy favored by Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction.

Wood made this suggestion in a letter to Superior Judge M. F. McCormick of Fresno county, who had written Wood to the effect that the vacation period tended to develop habits of idleness and criminality among the boys.

Wood, in his reply, said that exceptions should be made in the cases of older children whose assistance is needed in harvesting fruit crops and similar work.

"Of course," he added, "only children over 12 would be permitted to work even in agricultural districts."

Wood invited the opinion of other judges and educators in the matter. Legislation to the proposed end may be introduced at the coming session of the legislature.

Navy Yard Escapes Facing Long Terms

VALLEJO, Sept. 15.—The men who broke out of the navy yard prison at Mare Island a week ago last Sunday and who were later captured near Cordelia are to be court-martialed the last of September or early in October. The yard officers who have made a close study of the situation say that the majority of the men in the plot are sure to receive long terms in San Quentin as the navy department is anxious to put a stop to any further attempts to leave navy yard prisons.

COFFROTH TO FIGHT TO KEEP TIJUANA TRACK

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—James W. Coffroth, head of the racing interests at Tiajuana since the establishment of the gambling town across the Mexican border from San Diego, has been deposed, according to word reaching here. Control of the track and concessions has been given by the new government to E. C. Dunnivant of Venice and Jerome A. Bassity, San Francisco politician. Action causing the change was brought about in the Mexican court by the Zaragoza Investment Company, which alleged that Coffroth had failed to pay the lease rental on the land upon which the track is situated.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 15.—The announced changes in the management of the Tiajuana race track will not go through without a fight from James W. Coffroth, present manager, he told the United Press today.

"Every season just before the time to reopen the track, some rumor is circulated like the present one. The track will open at the scheduled time, under the present management. The members of the Lower California Jockey Club still own the track and its concessions."

REPUBLICANS MAINTAIN GREAT LEAD IN MAINE

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 15.—Returns today continued to maintain the big Republican plurality in the election of Monday.

Frederick H. Parkhurst, according to latest returns, had a plurality of nearly 66,000 votes over Bertrand C. McIntyre, Democratic candidate for governor.

The vote for Parkhurst was more than 136,000, while McIntyre's total up to today was approximately 70,000, with only about fifteen villages to be heard from.

DRY CANDIDATE IS THIRD IN VERMONT

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 15.—James Hartness of Springfield, running on a platform calling for industrial expansion in Vermont, has defeated his three opponents for the nomination for governor in the Republican primaries, according to nearly complete returns today. The Republican nomination has always been equivalent to election.

Returns from 178 out of 247 cities and towns gave Hartness 15,615; Curtis S. Emery, "dry" advocate, 10,512; Frank W. Agan, opponent of prohibition, 7864, and Fred H. Babbitt, who demanded a "reasonable modification" of the Volstead act, 8250.

Women, voting for the first time, turned out in large numbers.

JONES WINS SENATOR FIGHT IN WASHINGTON.

SEATTLE, Sept. 15.—Despite a newspaper fight against him because of his war record, his merchant marine bill and his alleged leanings toward the Japanese, United States Senator Wesley L. Jones, for 28 years senator from this state, was nominated by the Republicans in the state-wide primary election yesterday, Colonel William Inglis, an overseas veteran, was second, with Forest L. Hudson, railwaymen's candidate, third, and Frank Erickson fourth.

For congressional representative in the first (Seattle) district, John F. Miller, won.

The Republican nomination for governor rests between Colonel Roland H. Hartley, who made his chief fight on an open-shop platform, and Governor Louis F. Hart, with Hartley in the lead early today.

William J. Coyle, overseas veteran and former football star, leads for the lieutenant-governorship. Congressman J. Stanley Webster is leading Thomas Corkery in the fifth (Spokane) congressional district, and Congressman J. W. Summers is ahead of Captain E. K. Brown in the fourth district.

The farmer-labor party held a convention and nominated C. J. France, secretary of the Seattle port commission and member of the committee of 48, for senator; James A. Duncan, secretary Seattle Central [illegible] for congressman first district; William Bouck, farmer, second district; Homer T. Bone, lawyer, third district; Robert Bridges, farmer, governor, and E. W. Bowles, lieutenant-governor.

Pittman of San Francisco, Warren Howe of Watsonville, Dr. W. Phillips of San Francisco, Dr. Kerr of San Francisco, Miss Emma H. Gilbert and Miss Mary Moore.

Wolfe was painfully injured. The auto in trying to avoid the man crossed over two eight-foot ditches and tore through a wire fence before coming to a halt. The occupants, a man and a woman, were not injured.

VALLEJO, Sept. 15.—David de Laughter, a chief yeoman, was arrested at Mare Island today as an accomplice in the alleged theft of a $71.65 check from the navy yard last week. May E. Badzinski, a waitress, now under arrest for cashing it, says de Laughter aided her in getting it.

WOUNDED BOY RECOVERING

SOLOELLE

The Tone-Coloring Solo Player Piano

"I was a skeptic. The Soloelle surprised me beyond words to express and convinced me that at last a mechanism has been perfected which mirrors the musical moods of its operator. The wonder of the Soloelle lies in separate controls for melody and accompaniment, permitting treatment of the tone-coloring of melody and accompaniment individually. This is entirely new and places the Soloelle firmly upon the artistic plane."

Giorgio Polacco

The marvelous Soloelle enables you to play all the music you love best just as you love best to play it. It gives to you, yourself, the mastery of tone—the mastery of interpretation, even if you have no knowledge of the keyboard.

It is a pleasure to show and explain to you the wonders of the Soloelle in our studios.

Hear and play the Soloelle before you buy ANY Player Piano.

HARDING IS SURE OF VICTORY, SAYS GOV. STEPHENS

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Governor William D. Stephens telegraphed to Republican State headquarters in California that the election of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge appears to be certain. He said.

I have been in the East, in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and the District of Columbia for two weeks and I hear nothing but the most decided Harding and Coolidge sentiments. Their election is certain I have talked with hundreds of men and women in Ohio, and the outcome in this State is not in doubt. Senator Harding will carry his home State by at least 100,000.

COX CAUSE WANES.

It seems to be the judgment of everyone I have talked with here, regardless of political affiliation, that the campaign utterances of Governor Cox concerning "slush funds have reacted against him and in favor of Senator Harding

I have been told by many people that Montgomery county, the home of Governor Cox, will go for Harding I visited my birthplace in Preble county and I was assured there that Senator Harding will carry it by 600 majority. I have come much in contact with Senator Harding during my visit and it has been a wonderful experience.

HARDING A BIG MAN.

I think he will make one of the nation's greatest Presidents His presence, brain, will power, determination and experience equip him to give the country a real genuine American administration.

The people of California can make no mistake in supporting Senator Harding. Such a campaign as is being waged by the Democrats cannot appeal to Californians. The campaign being waged by them is not on a plane that people have a right to expect in a presidential election.

BLOWS RECONCILE ESTRANGED PAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—As a result of the sensational kidnaping of her little son from the residence of the child's father and a street fight with her father-in-law for possession of the baby, Mrs Mabel Babbino is today completely reconciled with her husband, Julius Babbino, painter and decorator, of 1435 Grant avenue.

Mrs Mabel Babbino, 23 years of age, of Clovis, began the second act of a family melodrama when she appeared in San Francisco with a woman friend from Clovis and seized her 20-months-old son, Robert, while he was playing in front of his father's house on Grant avenue.

SPEEDS OFF WITH BOY

The beginnings of the affair occurred sometime ago when Julius Babbino, who, since his separation from his wife, has been living here with his father and a sister, suddenly arrived in Clovis, found the boy and speeded with him back to San Francisco

In an attempt to regain possession of little Robert Mrs Babbino, with Miss Rhoda Gould, daughter of a prominent Fresno attorney, came to San Francisco in an automobile and registered in a Mason street hotel.

Leaving their machine in front of the lodgings they hired a taxicab and proceeded to a small park adjacent to the local Babbino residence When Robert came out to play his mother coaxed him to the car, seized him and threw him inside and the trio dashed away

FATHER IS RECONCILED

The child's grandfather, Antonio Babbino, 60, gave chase on foot and when the machine became stalled resorted to force, striking Mrs. Babbino on the jaw and eliminating Miss Gould in a similar fashion. The police then arrived and took them to the Hall of Justice, where the three were charged with disturbing the peace, Babbino also with battery, and were released on bail.

When a telephone call brought Julius the four went back to the grandfather's, where Julius, painter by profession, daubed iodine on the bruises of the victims of his father's wrath and aided by the pleadings of the youngster affected a reconciliation.

MANITOBA STOCK INCREASES FAST

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 15.—A livestock census taken forty-two years ago and displayed at a recent meeting of livestock men shows that in 1882 the province of Manitoba had only forty-five cows, thirty-nine calves and three bulls

A late census was submitted showing that last year Manitoba marketed through the Winnipeg yards alone 110,519 head of cattle and today still has on the farms 300,000 head of cattle. The province also marketed through the Winnipeg yards 133,000 hogs, 35,000 sheep and 4000 horses. It was estimated that there remain on the farms 400,000 horses, 250,000 hogs, 167,000 sheep and 3,000 000 head of poultry.

Manitoba is now celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of its admission to Canada as a province, and livestock men are striving to make the year the greatest in history of livestock production. Because of the abundance of game, particularly of buffalo, the livestock industry did not take root until long after grain growing had reached a high point, but its growth has been rapid and with the closing out to farm settlers of the remaining lands of the Hudson's Bay Company the industry will expand still more rapidly, livestock experts say.

JAPANESE NATURALIZED.

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept 15.—Following recent advices from Sacramento, California, that Judge Busick of the state Superior Court had held against granting a naturalized Japanese the right to vote, it was ascertained from United States court records here that 389 Japanese have been naturalized [illegible]

POLITICAL SPOTLIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Basing his estimate on results of the Maine election, Representative Simon D. Fess of Ohio, chairman of the National Republican Congressional committee, predicts that the general election would return to Congress a Republican majority in the Senate of at least ten and in the House at least fifty-three. "The result in Maine," he said, "points to Cox as the worst-beaten man in the history of elections."

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Sept 15.—Speaking at the first of a series of open air meetings that the candidates of both parties have arranged for the Edison employees, Thomas A. Edison declared that "women could accomplish much more good in their homes than in political offices." To the amazement of two women candidates who attended, Edison said that he was not "keen in seeing women seeking political positions."

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—As a result of the overwhelming victory of the Republican party in Maine, the odds in favor of Senator Harding to win the Presidential election next November shot up to 3 to 1 in the Wall street district. W. L. Darnell & Co., 44 Broad street, who are handling election bets on a commission basis, bet $9000 against $3000 on Harding. Followers of Democratic Candidate Cox are demanding odds of 4 to 1 against their favorite

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 — President Wilson is to be invited to participate actively in the Democratic campaign. This announcement was made by Chairman George White, following intimation from the White House that the President would be willing to contribute such effort as he may be able

NATION LEAGUE SCORED BY BORAH

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept 15.—Article X of the League of Nations is a conspiracy against the American people, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho said here last night Borah said in part:

"If Governor Cox is elected he will use all his great powers as President to commit us to article X.

"If Harding is elected, whatever else happens or does not happen as to a league, article X is to be eliminated

"The issue is plain, clear cut and stupendous No graver question has been submitted to the American electorate since the organization of the government Beside this question all other questions in the campaign are subordinate and incidental

"But Governor Cox does not propose to take any chances on the execution of article X. If it is necessary to send troops he is not to be embarrassed or retarded. He is therefore asking for a Congress in harmony with his views upon this subject His position is: Give me power and I will make the contract Give me a Congress who will assist me in executing it and I will send enough men to Europe if the occasion arises to see that the boundary lines of imperialistic Europe remain intact."

SOCIALIST WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

The presidential compaign will be opened officially for Oakland Sunday afternoon when Seymour Stedman, candidate for the vice-presidency on the socialist ticket, will speak in the auditorium at 2 o'clock

Stedman is the practical standard bearer for the Socialists owing to the incarceration of Eugene V Debs, presidential nominee in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. He was born in Hartford, Conn., in 1871. He went with his parents to Chicago in 1882 and was later admitted to the bar.

At the St. Louis convention of the People's Party in 1896 Stedman was the chairman of the contesting delegation from Illinois and later became a member of the first executive committee of the Social Democratic party of which the present socialist party is a direct heir

Stedman has also served in the legislature of Illinois and has figured in the public eye as representative of the United Mine Workers of that state and other labor organizations.

Only One Delegate to Progressive Meeting

SACRAMENTO, Sept 15.—If the Progressive party holds a convention in Sacramento September 21, as is its right under the State election law, John W. Fowler of Oakland, nominated in the Thirty-ninth district for assemblyman, will be the sole accredited delegate, according to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

The Prohibition party will fare slightly better, Jordan said, for two persons have qualified to attend its convention They are Charles H. Randall, nominee for Congress in the Ninth district, and Miss Marie C. Brehm, nominee in the Thirty-third district for the State senate.

The Socialist, Republican and Democratic parties each will have sufficient delegates for a working convention it was said.

Minister May Teach School Is Ruling

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15.—No legal objection exists to employment in the California schools of an ordained clergyman who also holds credentials as a teacher, Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, ruled yesterday in deciding a protest from Trinity county, against employment at Weaverville of W. W. Riley, Congregational pastor.

In another ruling Wood held that pupils enrolled in private schools may at the same time attend certain classes in the public school, but may not secure full time credits for such attendance. This decision was asked for by the school authorities at Bakersfield.

Kidney Remedy for 40 Years A Pronounced Success

When kidney diseases have been successfully treated for a period of more than forty years, it is reasonable to assume that the remedy therefore must possess unusual merit. Such is the remarkable record of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. Without its ability to give relief and benefit to its users so that they would continue its use, it could not have existed forty months, much less forty years of its enviable record. Many letters have come to us to prove that it has been a household remedy for years and years. Here is what one grateful woman has recently written:

"I wish to say that your remedies have been used in our family for fifteen years. We are never without a bottle of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy in our home and it has saved many a doctor's bill. It is a wonderful medicine for all diseases of the kidneys and liver."—(Signed) Florence E. Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Dunkirk, Ohio.

For the elimination of poisons due to impaired kidney action, Warner's Safe Remedy was famous for 25 years before this woman so ludicrously began its effective use. There are thousands of people who realize that their general health depends upon their kidneys and have found Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy a reliable family medicine. Forty years ago it was named "Safe" because it is SAFE absolutely, equalizing the work of both the kidneys and liver. Satisfactory results are obtained in the most severe cases and it is sold by druggists everywhere. A sample sent on receipt of ten cents. Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 765, Rochester, N. Y.—Advertisement.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

Joe is a traveling salesman. Tessie is his loving wife. Follow their letters in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

DEAR JOE:

Profiteers to the right of us, profiteers to the left of us, can you beat it, Joe? I went down town to Sprockers Bros. yesterday to buy a gingham dress—you know gingham is all a la mode now, although not so long ago you weren't nobody if you wore gingham, such is life—well, anyways, the saleslady had the nerve to inform me the lowest they had was $14.98. Gingham, can you imagine that, Joe? You know what gingham is, don't you, Joe? Think of aprons.

Well, anyways, I says to her, "$14.98," I says. "Why don't you say $114.98 while you're on the subject? You might as well be hung for a sheep as a lamb chop," I says. "I never heard of such profiteering in my life. I'd be ashamed to look a steady customer in the face and ask $14.98 for a gingham dress," I says.

"$14.98 is what we're getting," she says. Just like that, Joe, as cold as if she was saying "Pass the sugar." I finally took the dress, but believe me, Joe, my careless manner of tossing down $15 and saying "Keep the change" must of made that saleslady feel pretty small, though I must say she kept up her bold front as if nothing had happened. The worst of it was that when I got home I found the dress didn't fit me in the least, but it fit Mrs. Fink to a tea, so rather than cart it back and exchange it I sold it to her for $18.50. Anyways, the whole point of me telling you all this is to give you a dim idea of the profiteering I have to put up with.

I am sending you a necktie for your birthday. I like plain colors and I weighed myself in the balance as to whether to get you a red one or a green one of a yellow one, but finally I compromised and as a result you will find all three colors about evenly distributed in the one I selected. I hope you will approve of it and the man said it would go well with any style of collar. Love from me and Baby. TESSIE.

How Does Joe Receive His Necktie. His Emotions Are Portrayed Tomorrow

They've started no end of a breeze o'er the Boston woman who proposes to sell her husband. From one end of the country to the other a cry of horror is going up. "What are we coming to! Getting rid of one's mate to the highest bidder, 'according to his market value!' Preposterous! Revolting!"

YET YOU DON'T HEAR EVEN A HUSKY WHISPER AGAINST THE POPULAR PRACTICE OF CHOOSING A MATE FOR HIS MARKET VALUE.

Boston always was a brainy place and that young woman seems merely to have worked out the modern marriage to its logical conclusion. If it's decent to bestow your heart on the candidate with the best Dun and Bradstreet rating, why isn't it perfectly respectable to sell him out when the market has dropped and while the selling is still good?

Not that I'm advising it, mind you. I'm merely pointing out the fallacy in our matrimonial house rules. They are what we should consider, not the case of Mrs. Lillian Russell of Boston and the package she wants to auction off. Anyone who would bid him in doesn't deserve any sympathy anyway, so why worry? But how about the general line-up that makes such an announcement possible?

43 and Homeless

There's my friend the Bachelor. He's 43 and he wants a home. A regular home like his mother used to make with baked beans on Sunday mornings, and a Morris chair on the left side of the parlor lamp and brown bath towels. He has a good job and all his hair, and banana fritters are the only thing that give him indigestion. He's the sort of thing our grandmothers and great-grandmothers picked to start this nation with and he's probably good for 5000 mules without a blow out. But he has no takers whatever.

His income will only provide a home. It won't provide nouveau art apartments, nor Chow dogs, nor facial massages, nor otherwise care for a young lady in the style she hasn't been used to. She would have to wash the dishes and do up her best shirtwaist at home and take care of the babies all by herself.

So naturally, although some of the girls like him very much indeed, they are looking around for something better. And society is back of 'em solid. They're supposed to be showing "good common sense." No one is horrified because those girls are selling their futures to the highest bidders. We're used to it, you see. And the things we're used to are never wrong!

What a dear, consistent old world it ain't.

Who Is Boss?

Here's a letter that a number of us might have signed.

Dear Geraldine—

We have one boy of 5 and my husband and I are always disagreeing over how he should be managed. When I try to reason with him he criticizes and when he wants to punish him I feel of course, that I must interfere. We have pretty hot arguments about it because we can't ever agree. Who is boss anyway—he or I?

INDIGNANT.

Neither—the youngster is. If I know anything of youngsters. You and your husband had better go to a baseball game and watch the umpire for a time. That gentleman is there to ump and he umps. He isn't always right. If you believed the fans he's NEVER right. But whatever he says—GOES. The net result is good. The game goes on, which it never would if everyone could stop and argue.

You and Friend Husband should sit down, when the youngster isn't around and arrive at some set of game laws. Then, however the game goes, let whoever is the umpire for the moment, UMP. His decision may not agree with yours, but in the end the kiddie will get a bringing up, which he isn't now.

FORMER WARDEN OF FOLSOM DIES

W. H. Reilly, former warden of the state penitentiary at Folsom and well known for his activities in the Republican party of the state, is dead today at his home in Ventura at the age of 59 years.

Reilly, born in California, began his political career at an early age, becoming deputy sheriff of Ventura county when twenty-three and sheriff four years later, holding office until 1892, and serving again as under sheriff for the county from 1903 to 1908.

Following the resignation of Warden Archibald Yell in December, 1907, Reilly name was entered for the place and his appointment in January, 1908, settled a widely canvassed question which had risen from the opposition of his predecessor to the ruling party of the state.

In four years Reilly resigned following various charges against his administration in the penitentiary and alleged mistreatments of prisoners, and on leaving his post found himself broken in health.

A mother, Mrs. M. J. Reilly of Ventura, who crossed the plains to California from Illinois in 1850, a widow and five children—Harold, who is now in Europe, Phyllis, Margerette, Thomas and Vivien, two brothers and two sisters survive him.

Explaining the moderate price

Users of Palmolive should know why it can be bought at the price of other soaps.

Simply because Palmolive is so popular that it forces production in enormous quantity. The Palmolive factory works day and night, ingredients are purchased in gigantic volume. The result is a moderate price.

Palmolive is sold by all dealers and supplied in guest-room size by America's most popular hotels.

Use it as a beautifier

SOAP and water has a most important mission in preserving the beauty and fineness of the complexion. It removes the coating of dirt, perspiration and excess oil secretions which, with all traces of rouge and powder, must be washed away every day.

Neglect this daily cleansing and you invite trouble. The tiny pores and minute glands which make up the surface of the skin quickly become clogged and irritated. This clogging, this irritation, causes enlargement. This is the reason so many skins are coarse. Then when the coarsened pores fill with dirt, blackheads result. Soon they inflame and disfiguring blotches follow.

Do your washing with Palmolive

Don't say soap doesn't agree with your skin but go get a cake of Palmolive. Its pure, mild lather is so gentle in its action that it soothes while it cleanses.

If your complexion is excessively dry, apply Palmolive Cold Cream both before and after washing. This supplies the lacking natural oil and keeps it soft and smooth.

Why it can't irritate

Because Palmolive contains Palm and Olive oils discovered 3,000 years ago in ancient Egypt.

Cleopatra knew their value—they served her both as cleanser and cosmetic. Today their scientific combination in Palmolive Soap achieves the final toilet luxury.

DESCHANEL ILL, TO RESIGN; FOCH MAY TAKE POST

PARIS, Sept. 15.—President Paul Deschanel, who is seriously ill, has taken a turn for the worse, it was learned today.

The Figaro announces that the government is expected to convene the national assembly within a few days, possibly immediately upon the return of the Premier, who is in Switzerland, to select M. Deschanel's successor, as the president is so ill that he cannot attend his duties It is assured that the Senate and Chamber of Deputies would not wait until the regular October session to accept the resignation According to the Journal, President Deschanel will resign next week

MENTAL CONDITION BAD.

The presidential situation will be discussed at a meeting of the cabinet on Friday. Officials take the view that quick action is necessary as the French president will soon be called upon to welcome formally the new British and German ambassadors

The cabinet is being kept informed by the physicians attending M. Deschanel of his condition He is said to be suffering from neurasthenia, and while his physical condition is bad, his mental condition is reported worse.

The Figaro believes that the next president of France will be one of the following public men

Leon Bourgeois president of the Senate Raoul Peret speaker of the Chamber of Deputies, or M Charles Jounart

The International News Service, however, was informed from an authoritative source that M Bourgeois will not accept and that neither Premier Millerand nor M Peret would make an active campaign for the place nor would they allow their political friends to do so in their behalf

Former President Poincare has already announced that he would not be a candidate The Socialists are backing M Doumergue and M Millerand, with the latter the strong favorite

FOCH URGED FOR OFFICE

Following confirmation by the foreign office that Deschanel will resign Paris newspapers urged Marshal Foch to become a candidate for president

Paul Deschanel at the age of 64 was elected president of France It was the climax of a long public career in which he had served in minor capacities in several departments Before election he was a member of the chamber of deputies

His election as president aroused little enthusiasm It was regarded largely as a rebuke to his opponent, Premier Clemenceau

Deschanel's former mental vigor appeared lacking after his election and there were many rumors as to his real physical condition Recently he has been in the country near Paris under care of a physician

Shortly after his election, Deschanel was found by a railway track walker wandering along the road in his night clothes. He explained he had either walked or fallen from a moving train in his sleep He was not injured

The president was regarded as a handsome and magnetic man

Republicans Confident of Gain of Six Votes in Senate

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MARION, O., Sept. 15.—Reports received by Senator Warren G. Harding from Republican field agents in various parts of the country led to the confident prediction at his headquarters today that the narrow Republican majority of two in the Senate will be increased in November by at least six, possibly more.

The Republicans are fairly confident of gaining more than this number but six are almost assured, according to reports reaching Harding headquarters. States in which the Republicans expect to pick up these new senatorial votes were named as follows:

Colorado, Kentucky, Maryland, California, Arizona and Nevada.

"Reports are very encouraging," said Senator Harding

In addition to the states in which gains are expected, the Republicans also are confident of holding what they already have, although in several states the races are admittedly very close.

The desire to aid in these senatorial contests has been one of the prime incentives to Senator Harding to leave his front porch. He plans to deliver probably four speeches in the middlewest soon after September 25. An itinerary of this trip is expected within a few days. The Senator and Harry M. Daugherty, his personal campaign manager, conferred regarding it last night, after which Daugherty left for Chicago to complete arrangements

A quiet day was scheduled for the candidate today. No delegations were due, no engagements of any consequence had been made and he plannned to spend some of the time working on speeches. His next speech is Friday, Constitution Day

Judges Warned to Be Severe With Dry Law Breakers

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A committee was appointed today at the Anti-Saloon League conference here to draft a resolution warning federal judges that unless they "sacredly perform their sacred duties" in enforcing prohibition laws the league will seek their impeachment.

The committee was named by the Rev. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the league, after speakers at the conference had vigorously criticised federal judges for alleged laxity in meteing out punishment to those convicted of violation of the prohibition act and enforcement law.

Charges were made that some federal judges had "coddled bootleggers and moonshiners" and that prohibition laws were being made "a farce" in some sections by the light punishment.

CITY EMPLOYEES WILL FIGHT FOR CIVIL SERVICE

tion in progressive cities and in our federal government These provisions have been in operation ever since, but it is now proposed, by the city council, to practically do away with them, by taking away the right of appeal of a civil service employee

"If the proposed amendment to our charter were to carry, it would mean the reverting back to the old 'spoils' system, which existed under the old political form of government The city commissioners now propose that, when they discharge a man, he shall have the right to a public hearing—that is, that the discharging official shall give him a hearing, making the official himself the judge and jury of his own acts This would give the commissioner absolute power to permanently discharge any employee he so desires, to satisfy his slightest whim This is most preposterous and ridiculous and contrary to all right and justice, and such hearing will be a farce No European government, of the highest form of autocracy, would resort to these methods

ACTION OF CITY COUNCIL CRITICIZED

"It is to be regretted that the present city council is in the control of a clique of public officeseekers and dissatisfied politicians, who would resort to any measure to perpetuate themselves in office, regardless of principle or good government

"The people of this city should rise in their might and brand this move on their part as one being contrary to everything that is good in the public service

"J F CHAMBERS,
"President Oakland Civil Service Board."

CITY ATTORNEY HAGAN JOINS WITH COUNCIL

Reinforcements were added this noon to the city council in its civil service battle when City Attorney H L Hagan aligned behind the council and opened a barrage on the civil service board in reply to its heavy assault of this morning against the council.

"Needless to say, honest employees will welcome a change of system," he asserts

The following is the Hagan statement

"The civil service system as now constituted under the city charter provides for (1) examination and certification of applicants for city positions to appointive heads, (2) examination and certification of city employees for promotion, (3) classification of city positions and (4) for rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of the civil service system

"It is practically impossible for politicians seeking to perpetuate themselves in office to introduce a spoils system in this city. A spoils system cannot exist unless the appointive head can discharge city employees in order to make room for political favorites. Under the civil service system of Oakland no appointments can be made excepting from the lists of eligible persons furnished by the civil service board.

NO APPEAL RIGHT IN FEDERAL SYSTEM

The federal civil service is substantially similar to the provisions of our charter above referred to, but without the right of appeal However, in some of the larger eastern cities, such as Chicago, a further effort was made to prevent the spoils system by taking away from administrative heads the right to discipline city employees. Admittedly this right of appeal, as now constituted in the Oakland city charter, does not exist in the federal government system. It is the result of adding additional safeguards that were well intended, but which have proven to be absolutely impossible in actual operation.

"In practically every large city where the right of disciplining and discharging city employees has been taken from the department head there is inefficient and corrupt administration The city of Chicago furnishes a splendid example of the truth of this statement

OBJECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES EXPLAINED

"The proposed charter amendments direct that department heads may discipline or discharge city employees for actual misconduct, incompetency or failure to perform their duties in order that the public may know whether or not the action of the department head is meritorious. It is proposed in the charter amendments to allow a hearing at which the accused may be present with counsel and witnesses."

THE STRAWBERRIES

Are picked at the very height of the season, great luscious berries, fragrant in their rich ripeness.

After the berries are carefully picked and washed, they are packed in carefully waxed lined barrels with an equal amount of sugar—quart for quart.

The fruit is then immediately put in cold storage to be kept until such time as it is needed. The strawberries for National Ice Cream are never cooked, as is usually done for most ice creams.

This is why National Ice Cream has that rich, fruity flavor and is so

SUPER-PERFECT

JAPANESE ARMY MAY WITHDRAW

TOKYO, Sept 15 (Associated Press)—Newspaper reports that Viscount Uchida, foreign minister, told members of the opposition party that the fact that America had not replied to the latest Japanese note regarding the Island of Saghalien was considered tantamount to American approval of the Japanese position are denied at the Foreign Office It is said there that the foreign minister merely informed his callers that Japan had answered the American note relative to the presence of Japanese forces in the Russian section of the Island

There have been various press interpretations of Viscount Uchida's remarks in answering questions relative to Japanese children in Hawaii studying the Japanese language and possible objection on the part of America It is officially stated that the foreign minister said it was true that Japanese children were learning their mother tongue outside of the public schools in Hawaii and that personally he saw no reason why there should be any interference in this work He added the matter had not been subject to discussion between the American and Japanese governments

Reports that it has been decided to withdraw Japanese troops from Khabarovsk Siberia are confirmed by the Foreign Office which expresses that Khabarovsk was occupied because Nikolaievsk at the mouth of the Amur river also was under control of Japanese armed forces but that Nikolaievsk is being evacuated because of the extreme cold which prevails there during the winter months The future policy to be pursued relative to the occupation of the two cities depends on circumstances it is said

THAT Mazola is a better and more economical frying fat than lard has again been demonstrated. This time by Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, admittedly one of the greatest experts in modern cookery.

Mrs. Andrea found that 4 lbs. of Mazola, cooked down to 2 lbs., fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes. While 4 lbs. of lard cooked down to 2 lbs. fried only 7 lbs. 14 oz. potatoes.

Tested on fish steaks, one inch in thickness, Mazola fried 25¾ lbs., while lard fried only 16½ lbs. of fish.

Of doughnuts cut uniformly 2¾ inches in diameter, Mazola fried 208, while lard fried only 138.

This proves conclusively that Mazola goes more than three times as far as lard for frying potatoes; almost twice as far for fish; and two-thirds farther than lard in frying doughnuts.

No housewife who wants to use the most wholesome, as well as the most economical cooking and salad oil, should fail to order Mazola from her grocer today.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. PETERSEN WILL FIGHT FOR JOB HE LOST AGAIN

The second appeal of Walter J. Petersen, deposed captain of inspectors, who was reinstated and then deposed again, will be heard before the Civil Service Board September 28, according to ruling by that body last night. There are about twenty charges against Petersen.

The case of Patrolman Michael Conley, suspended by Commissioner Morse, after it was alleged that federal authorities found him unconcerned about the suppression of liquor sales, was postponed until next Tuesday night.

Attorney Stanley Sterne said Conley would appear before the federal grand jury in San Francisco Thursday and further action by the Civil Service Board may be unnecessary.

Conley further charged, and also his attorney, that the federal authorities never asked Morse to suspend him at all. He has been under suspension about one month.

Commissioner Morse's request for a transcript of the testimony in the L. F. Agnew hearing was taken up by the Civil Service Board, which replied that he could have it if he paid for transcribing. The cost was estimated at about $150.

Mrs. Johaningmeier claims the care given her by the defendants was entirely unsatisfactory.

Oakland Letter Solves Murder

Body in Woods Is Cut to Pieces

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Sept. 15.—Sheriff J. B. Walker of Butte county today received a letter from Oakland signed "An Oakland Citizen," unfolding what purported to be the story of the murder of W. B. Baker in Glenn county in 1911. The Baker murder always had stood as an unsolved mystery.

The letter declared that Baker's body was taken into Butte county in a wagon, was cut to pieces and buried in three separate graves.

The statement conforms to the account of the murder in the sheriff's files.

According to the letter, two men and two women were the murderers, and they robbed Baker of $800.

Publicity Urged of Doctors In Selling Ways to Health

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Health is a commodity and should be sold to the public through experts, scientific and constructive publicity. If banking institutions and churches have enlisted publicity campaigns to stimulate their growth and familiarize the public with what they offer, why can't doctors and health experts do the same thing? The most interesting thing in life is life, and life is health itself, and why shouldn't the public be educated along these lines?

These were some of the pertinent queries and statements submitted today by Celestine J. Sullivan of San Francisco to the delegates attending the annual convention of the American Public Health Association which is being held at the Civic Auditorium.

Characterizing as foolish the "shyness and monastic attitude of doctors toward publicity" Sullivan demanded "you have health to sell, how are you going to sell it?"

PUBLICITY URGED.

He then sought to answer his own query. "Doctors and others interested in disseminating health propaganda before the public" Sullivan said, "should resort to scientific, consistent publicity which would be readily understandable to the layman."

The speaker explained that under existing conditions medical experts and others attend conventions, exploit their views, the discussions and papers later are embodied in a medical journal, and that is the end of it.

He urged that when any achievement or progress along health conservation lines is accomplished, or anything of interest to the welfare of the public is brought about by medical science, that the public be appraised of this in language that everyone can understand.

Banks and churches, Sullivan declared, have made wonderful progress through scientific advertising, and it now devolves upon the health forces of the country to follow suit.

ADVERTISING ETHICAL.

Sullivan charged that this question has been the source of a prolonged battle between quackery and science. He emphasized that by publicity he did not mean that variety used to exploit any one individual or which put any individual in the role of being able to cure diseases which scientists knew to be incurable.

"There is nothing unethical about advertising if it is true," asserted Sullivan, boldly bringing up an issue surrounding the ethics of advertising which has been a bone of contention among the medical fraternity for many years. Sullivan expressed the belief that the solution of the whole matter could be found in paid trained publicity. This form of publicity, he said, would have a distinct function in listing the aid of the public in the battle made by doctors to curb or eliminate disease and generally to bring health to the people.

Businessmen, according to Sullivan, are opposed to health publicity, particularly if most of it concerns bad health conditions.

The speaker provoked considerable mirth among his spectators when he pleaded with them to give California health publicity when they returned to their homes, explaining that the residents of California "were too modest to do so."

BUBONIC PLAGUE THREATENED

America is seriously threatened with bubonic plague similar to that which is now sweeping over Europe, Dr. Hugh S. Cumming surgeon general of the United States public health service, decalred in an address before health authorities from all over the country in attendance at the forty-ninth annual meeting of the American Public health association here.

"Bubonic plague already exists in certain southern seaports of the United States and there is an appalling danger of it spreading over the country with grave consequences" said Dr. Cumming, "I have just returned from Europe, where I found the bubonic plague rampant, especially in the seaports. Intensive combative means must be used here to prevent an outbreak of the plague."

A third influenza epidemic, lighter than the two previous ones, will be experienced by the people of the United States this year, Dr. Cumming declared in an interview. The epidemic will be of smaller proportions than before, he said, because of the fact that epidemics always "taper" off on recurrence.

PORTO RICO CONDITIONS.

Health conditions in Porto Rico were described as "disgraceful," and virtually no improvement has been noted in health conditions there in 22 years. Dr. Louis I. Dublin of New York city, told the convention. He is an expert on insular health and sanitation administration. Health conditions in Porto Rico are not much better than when the Spaniards controlled the island," Dr. Dublin said. "The death rate there is twice as great as that of the U. S."

LETTER SCHOOL FOR THIEVES IS FOUND IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—An alleged "shoplifters' ring" run on the system of a correspondence school, is being probed here today following the arrest of Georgia Carmichael, 25, for stealing a pair of shoes in a downtown store.

She stole articles from local stores and received regular wages from M. G. Sullivan, she told officers.

"He paid me $25 in advance after I answered an ad and offered me $10 for each of five stores I could steal articles from," Miss Carmichael said.

She reported her success to her "employer" by mail, she said.

Detectives were unable to shake the girl's story, while a hunt for Sullivan was made.

Berkeley's Complaint On Water Remedied

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Water service matters complained of by the city council of Berkeley in a resolution adopted and forwarded to the Railroad Commission, had been remedied prior to the passage of the resolution, according to a letter forwarded today to Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley by the commission.

At the time the resolution was passed the pumping operations requested by the Berkeley council had been in operation for a day, following a field investigation made by the commission several days prior, on the receipt of a complaint from a Berkeley consumer of the East Bay Water company.

Following is the commission's letter to Mayor Bartlett:

"We are pleased to inform you that this matter was taken up by the commission. Prior to the receipt of your resolution an investigation had been made by our engineering department. A few days prior to August 28, 1920, we received a complaint from an individual user of water in that section of Berkeley referred to in your resolution and immediately took the matter up with the East Bay Water company and caused an inspection to be made by our engineers."

Court Refuses Heir Cherished Motor Car

The desire of a 17-year-old boy heir to a $30,000 estate, to own an automobile struck a snag in the more mature judgment of Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today when the latter denied the boy's application for permission to make the purchase.

The boy, Guthrie Courvissier, whose guardian is Mrs. Meta McCartney, told the court he had an affection of the eyes which was better when he went to Los Gatos and that he desired the machine for trips there. He is attending the Berkeley high school and expects to enter the university next semester. Judge Robinson told him the expense of operating the machine would be $50 a month, which the boy admitted, and that the possession of the car might make him "skylark" around at night.

Get a Start On Your Rheumatism

Begin the Proper Treatment Before the Disease Germs Become Active.

Suppose you could save yourself much of the torture that Rheumatism has in store for you this winter, by taking a litle precautionary treatment right now? Don't you think you would be wise in doing so?

The little pain demons that often cause Rheumatism lie dormant and inactive in summer, but when winter approaches they resume their attacks with renewed fury.

If you have been a victim of Rheumatism, don't make the mistake of thinking that you are at last free from its clutches, simply because you have escaped its pains in summer. The first damp, cold day of returning winter will convince you of your error.

The really wise thing to do is to take advantage of the dormant, inactive condition of the millions of tiny disease germs, and endeavor to eliminate them from your system right now while they are less able to resist effective treatment.

Until you do cleanse your blood of the cause of your Rheumatism, you will remain in the clutches of the disease, and you will have to undergo another season of rubbing with liniments, lotions, etc., in an endeavor to get relief from its torturing pains.

Many people have found that the summer season is an excellent time to cleanse the blood of the impurities which cause their Rheumatism, because the germs are more easily reached while they are inactive.

One of the best remedies for Rheumatism is S.S.S., which is an excellent blood purifier, and acts by eliminating from the blood all impurities. S.S.S. has been successfully used in hundreds of cases of Rheumatism, and perhaps it is just the treatment that you need. It is sold by all druggists.

Our trained physician will take pleasure in giving you any desired information or advice about your own case, without cost. Write today to Chief Medical Adviser, 280 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

CHAPLIN IS TIGHT WAD, SAYS WIFE

By FLOYD MACGRIFF,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—"Mr. Chaplin is so tight with his money, I don't believe one could separate him from a cent with a vacuum cleaner."

A few minutes after she had sobbed out these words, in the course of a lengthy statement in the offices of her attorneys, Henry S. and Fred Goldsmith, Mrs Mildred Harris Chaplin, wife of the film comedian, collapsed and was ordered to take a rest of a week She was whisked away in a limousine to Manor Neck, N. Y., to recover from a breakdown which seems complete.

The young film actress' full statement follows.

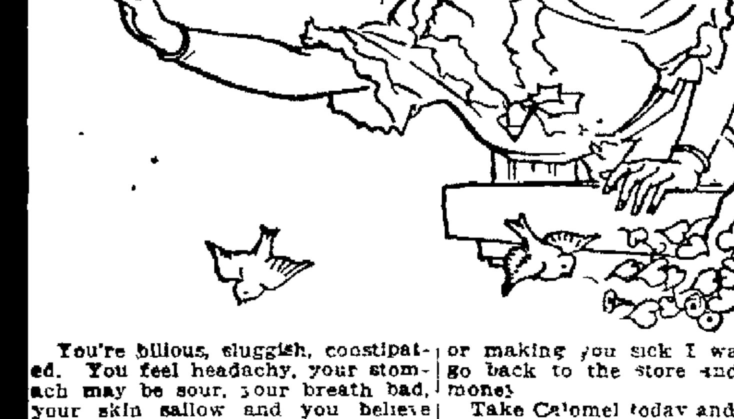

"My husband originally said that the only way I could get money from him was to get a divorce. He offered me $25,000 as a settlement. I didn't want a divorce All I wanted was that Mr Chaplin would come home.

"Later I was willing to agree to a separation. Then Mr. Chaplin again asked me to set him free by divorce, offering me this time, $45,000. I refused.

"All this time the expense of the upkeep of our house, rent, servants, and everything, were on my hands. In July, when the doctors said I would have to stop working or I would ruin my health, I thought it would be best to accept Mr Chaplin's offer."

O. HENRY Story a day

HUMOR PATHOS ROMANCE

The Missing Chord

Copyright, 1920, by Doubleday, Page & Co. Published by special arrangement with the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

I stopped overnight at the sheep ranch of Bush Kinney, on the Sandy Fork of the Nueces. Mr. Kinney and I had been strangers up to the time when I called "Hello!" at his hitching rack, but from that moment until my departure on the next morning we were, according to the Texas code, undeniable friends.

After supper the ranchman and I lugged our chairs outside the two-room house to its floorless gallery roofed with chaparral and sacuista grass. With the rear legs of our chairs sinking deep into the hard-packed loam each of us reposed against an elm pillar of the structure and smoked El Toro tobacco, while we wrangled amicably concerning the affairs of the rest of the world

Mr. Kinney's wife, a young and capable woman, we had left in the house. She remained to busy herself with the domestic round of duties, in which I had observed that she seemed to take a buoyant and contented pride In one room we had supped Presently, from the other, as Kinney and I sat without, there burst a volume of sudden and brilliant music If I could justly estimate the art of piano-playing, the construer of that rollicking fantasia had creditably mastered the secrets of the keyboard A piano, and one so well played, seemed to me to be an unusual thing to find in that small and unpromising ranch-house I must have looked my surprise at Rush Kinney, for he laughed in his soft Southern way and nodded at me through the moonlit haze of our cigarettes

'You don't often hear as agreeable a noise as that on a sheep ranch" he remarked; "but I never see any reason for not playing up to the arts and graces just because we happen to live out in the brush. It's a lonesome life for a woman, and if a little music can make it any better, why not have it? That's the way I look at it"

"A wise and generous theory," I assented. 'And Mrs Kinney plays well. I am not learned in the science of music, but I should call her an uncommonly good performer She has technic and more than ordinary power."

The moon was very bright, you will understand, and I saw upon Kinney's face a sort of amused and pregnant expression, as though there were things behind it that might be expounded

"You came up the trail from the Double-Elm Fork" he said promisingly. "As you crossed it you must have seen an old deserted jacal to your left under a comma mott."

I did," said I "There was a drove of javalis rooting around it I could see by the broken corrals that no one lived there"

"That's where this music proposition started," said Kinney "I don't mind telling you about it while we smoke That's where old Cal Adams lived. He had about eight hundred graded merinos and a daughter that was solid silk and as handsome as a new stake-rope on a thirty-dollar pony And I don't mind telling you that I was guilty in the second degree of hanging around old Cal's ranch all the time I could spare away from lambing and shearing Miss Marilla was her name and I had figured it out by the rule of two that she was destined to become the chatelaine and lady superior of Rancho Lomito belonging to R Kinney, Esq where you are now a welcome and honored guest

"I will say that old Cal wasn't distinguished as a sheepman He was a little old stoop-shouldered hombre about as big as a gun scabbard, with scraggy white whiskers, and condemned to the continuous use of language Old Cal was so obscure in his chosen profession that he wasn't even hated by the cowmen And when a sheepman don't get eminent enough to acquire the hostility of the cattlemen, he is mighty apt to die unwept and considerably unsung

But that Marillo girl was a benefit to the eye And she was the most elegant kind of a housekeeper I was the nearest neighbor and I used to ride over to the Double-Elm anywhere from nine to sixteen times a week with fresh butter or a quarter of venison or a sample of new sheep-dip just as a frivolous excuse to see Marilla. Marilla and me got to be extensively inveigled with each other and I was pretty sure I was going to get my rope around her neck and lead her over to the Lomito Only she was so everlastingly permeated with filial sentiments toward old Cal that I never could get her to talk about serious matters

'You never saw anybody in your life that was as full of knowledge and had less sense than old Cal He was advised about all the branches of information contained in learning and he was up to all the rudiments of doctrines and enlightenment You couldn't advance him any ideas on any of the parts of speech or lines of thought You would have thought he was a professor of the weather and politics and chemistry and natural history and the origin of derivations An subject you brought up old Cal could give you an abundant synopsis of it from the Greek root up to the time it was sacked and on the market

One day just after the fall shearing I rides over to the Double-Elm with a lady's magazine about fash- [illegible] for old Cal

While I was tying my pony to a mesquite out runs Marilla tickled to death with some news that couldn't wait

'Oh Rush,' she says all flushed up with esteem and fratification 'what do you think? Dad's going to buy me a piano Ain't it grand? I never dreamed I'd ever have one

'It's sure joyful' says I 'I always admired the agreeable uproar of a piano It'll be lots of company for you That's mighty good of Uncle Cal to do that

'I'm all undecided' says Marilla "between a piano and a organ A parlor organ is nice

'Either of 'em' says I 'is first-class for mitigating the lack of noise around a sheep-ranch For my part I says I shouldn't like anything better than to ride home of an evening and listen to a few waltzes and jigs with somebody about your size sitting on the piano stool and rounding up the notes

'Oh, hush about that' says Marilla 'and go on in the house Dad hasn't rode out today He's not feeling well'

"Old Cal was inside lying on a cot He had a pretty bad cold and cough I stayed to supper

'Going to get Marilla a piano, I hear' says I to him

'Why, yes something of the kind Rush' says he 'She's been hankering for music for a long spell and I allow to fix her up with something in that line right away The sheep sheared six pounds all around this fall and I'm going to get Marilla an instrument if it takes the price of the whole clip to do it

"'Star warno' says I 'The little girl deserves it'

"'I'm going to San Antone on the last load of wool' says Uncle Cal, 'and select an instrument for her myself'

"'Wouldn't it be better' I suggests 'to take Marilla along and let her pick out one that she likes?

"I might have known that would set Uncle Cal going Of course a man like him that knew everything about everything would look at that as a reflection on his attainments

'No sir it wouldn't' says he pulling at his white whiskers 'There ain't a better judge of musical instruments in the whole world than what I am I had an uncle' says he 'that was a partner in a piano factory and I've seen thousands of 'em put together I know all about musical instruments from a pipe organ to a corn-stalk fiddle There ain't

"I should call her an uncommonly good performer"

a man lives sir, that can tell me any news about any instrument that has to be pounded blowed scraped, grinded, picked or wound with a key'

"'You get me what you like, dad' says Marilla, who couldn't keep her feet on the floor from joy. 'Of course you know what to select. I'd just as lief it was a piano or a organ or what.'

"'I see in St. Louis once what they call a orchestrion,' says Uncle Cal, 'that I judged was about the finest thing in the way of music ever invented But there ain't room in this house for one Anyway, I imagine they cost a thousand dollars I reckon something in the piano line would suit Marilla the best She took lessons in that respect for two years over at Birdstall I wouldn't trust the buying of an instrument to anybody else but myself I reckon if I hadn't took up sheep-raising I'd have been one of the finest composers or piano-and-organ manufacturers in the world.'

"That was Uncle Cal's style. But I never lost any patience with him, on account of his thinking so much of Marilla And she thought just as much of him He sent her to the academy over at Birdstall for two years when it took nearly every pound of wool to pay the expenses.

"Along about Tuesday Uncle Cal put out for San Antone on the last wagon-load of wool. Marilla's uncle Ben, who lived in Birdstall, come over and stayed at the ranch while Uncle Cal was gone

It was ninety miles to San Antone, and forty to the nearest railroad station, so Uncle Cal was gone about four days. I was over at the Double-Elm when he came rolling back one evening about sundown And up there in the wagon, sure enough, was a piano or a organ—we couldn't tell which—all wrapped up in woolsacks, with a wagon-sheet tied over it in case of rain. And out skips Marilla, hollering, 'Oh, oh!' with her eyes shining and her hair a-flying 'Dad—dad' she sings out, have you brought it—have you brought it'—and it right there before her eyes, as women will do

"'Finest piano in San Antone' says Uncle Cal waving his hand proud 'Genuine rosewood, and the finest loudest tone you ever listened to I heard the storekeeper play it and I took it on the spot and paid cash down'

"Me and Ben and Uncle Cal and a Mexican lifted it out of the wagon and carried it in the house and set it in a corner. It was one of them upright instruments, and not very heavy or very big

"And then all of a sudden Uncle Cal flops over and says he's mighty sick He's got a high fever, and he complains of his lungs He gets into bed, while me and Ben goes out to unhitch and put the horses in the pasture, and Marilla flies around to get Uncle Pal something hot to drink But first she puts both arms on that piano and hugs it with a soft kind of smile like you see kids doing with their Christmas toys

When I came in from the pasture Marilla was in the room where the piano was I could see by the strings and woolsacks on the floor that she had had it unwrapped But now she was tying the wagon-sheet over it again, and there was a kind of solemn, whitish look on her face

"'Ain't wrapping up the music again are you Marilla?' I asks 'What's the matter with just a couple of tunes for to see how she goes under the saddle?'

"'Not tonight Rush,' says she 'I don't want to play any tonight Dad's too sick Just think Rush he paid three hundred dollars for it—nearly a third of what the wool-clip brought'

"'Well, it ain't anyways in the borhood of a third of what you are worth,' I told her 'And I don't think Uncle Cal is too sick to hear a little agitation of the piano-keys just to christen the machine'

'Not tonight, Rush' says Marilla in a way that she wanted to settle things

But it seems that Uncle Cal was plenty sick after all He got so bad that Ben saddled up and rode over to Birdstall for Doc Simpson I stayed around to see if I'd be needed for anything

When Uncle Cal's pain let up on him a little he called Marilla and says to her 'Did you look at your instrument honey? And do you like it'

'It's lovely dad' says she leaning down by his pillow, I never saw one so pretty How dear and good it was of you to buy it for me!'

"'I haven't heard you play on it any yet' says Uncle Cal, 'and I've been listening My side don't hurt quite so bad now—won't you play a piece, Marilla?'

But no, she puts Uncle Cal off and soothes him down like you've seen women do with a kid It seems she's made up her mind not to touch that piano at present

When Doc Simpson comes over he tells us that Uncle Cal has pneumonia the worst kind and as the old man was past sixty and nearly on the lift anyhow, the odds was against his walking on glass any more

On the fourth day of his sickness he calls for Marilla again and wants to talk piano Doc Simpson was there, and so was Ben and Mrs Ben trying to do all they could

'I'd have made a wonderful success in anything connected with music' says Uncle Cal 'I got the finest instrument for the money in San Antone Ain't that piano all right in every respect Marilla?'

'It's just perfect, dad' says she 'It's got the finest tone I ever heard But don't you think you could sleep a little now dad?

'No I don't' says Uncle Cal 'I want to hear that piano I don't believe you've even tried it yet I went all the way to San Antone and picked it out for you myself It took a third of the fall clip to buy it but I don't mind that if it makes my good girl happier Won't you play a little bit for dad Marilla?

Doc Simpson beckoned Marilla to one side and recommended her to do what Uncle Cal wanted so it would get him quieted And her uncle Ben and his wife asked her too

'Why not hit out a tune or two with the soft pedal on?' I asks Marilla 'Uncle Cal has begged you so often It would please him a good deal to hear you touch up the piano he's bought for you Don't you think you might?'

"But Marilla stands there with big tears rolling down from her eyes and says nothing And then she runs over and slips her arm under Uncle Cal's neck and hugs him tight

'Why, last night dad' we heard her say 'I played ever so much Honest—I have been playing it And it's such a splendid instrument you don't know how I love it Last night I played "Bonnie Dundee" and the "Anvil Polka" and the "Blue Danube"—and lots of pieces You must surely have heard me playing a little, didn't you dad? I didn't like to play loud when you was so sick'

"'Well well' says Uncle Cal, 'maybe I did Maybe I did and forgot about it My head is a little cranky at times I heard the man in the store play it fine I'm mighty glad you like it, Marilla. Yes I believe I could go to sleep awhile if you'll stay right besides me till I do'

There was where Marilla had me guessing Much as she thought of that old man, she wouldn't strike a note on that piano that he'd bought her I couldn't imagine why she told him she'd been playing it, for the wagon-sheet hadn't even been off of it since she put it back on the same day it come I knew she could play a little anyhow, for I'd once heard her snatch some pretty fair dance-music out of an old piano at the Charco Largo Ranch

"Well in about a week the pneumonia got the best of Uncle Cal They had the funeral over at Birdstail, and all of us went over. I brought Marilla back home in my buckboard Her uncle Ben and his wife were going to stay there a few days with her

"That night Marilla takes me in the room where the piano was, while the others were out on the gallery.

"'Come here, Rush,' says she, 'I want you to see this now'

"She unties the rope, and drags off the wagon-sheet.

"If you ever rode a saddle without a horse, or fired off a gun that wasn't loaded or took a drink out of an empty botle, why, then you might have been able to scare an opera or two out of the instrument Uncle Cal had bought.

"Instead of a piano, it was one of them machines they've invented to play the piano with. By itself it was about as musical as the holes of a flute without the flute

"And that was the piano that Uncle Cal had selected; and standing by it was the good, fine, all-wool girl that never let him know it.

"And what you heard playing a while ago," concluded Mr Kinney, "was that same deputy-piano machine; only just at present it's shoved up against a six-hundred-dollar piano that I bought for Marilla as soon as we were married."

MY HEART and HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

How Lillian Underwood Set the Stage for the Conference.

Mr Walters kept his promise punctually. I went to the door myself to answer his ring, glad that Katie had gone to the "movies."

My little maid is so frankly curious and gregarious a creature that I have not the problem of door service which confronts so many house mistresses It does not matter whether it be day or evening, hours on duty or hours off, the sound of the doorbell is the signal which draws Katie with a movement as swift and sure as that of a homing pigeon flying to its nest.

For many reasons, however, I preferred that Katie should not see my visitors if the encounter could be avoided. I was reasonably sure that it could be, for Jim and Katie upon coming home would go straight to their own room, unless I intercepted them with some questions or direction for the morrow.

I was as frankly glad to see Esther Walters again as I was uneasily troubled about a further encounter with her brother. The girl, a wonderfully pretty creature with big Irish eyes of violet shaded by long lashes a clear olive skin dashed with carmine, and black hair whose lustre would make any self-respecting raven put his wing out of sight in humiliated envy, threw her arms around me impetuously as I opened the door

'Oh, my dear Mrs Graham" she exclaimed, and I noted again the attractiveness of her throaty contralto voice. "It does seem so good to see you again I'm awfully glad I graduated last year It would make me sick to think of going back to school with you not there"

I kissed her warmly before I extended my hand to her brother.

"It is good to see you, dear," I replied, heartily, and then changed my tone involuntarily to that of formal courtesy.

"I am so glad you could come over, Mr. Walters. Come into the living room"

He murmured something as banally conventional in return and went through the introduction to Lillian with the same unsmiling formality His whole attitude was as hostilely wary as that of a Missourian is supposed to be I was as sure as if he had uttered the words aloud, that he thought himself the center of some scheme to save me at the expense of Kenneth Stockbridge

LILLIAN IS DIRECT.

Lillian, after the introductions and the usual small talk following, took the reins of the situation in her own hands with her usual directness in verbiage stripped of frills. I had previously assured her of Esther's absolute trustworthiness in keeping to herself anything which she might hear

'Mr Walters," she said crisply, "of course you have guessed that it was not to play bridge that we invited you to come here tonight Mrs. Graham and I wish to consult you upon a most important project connected with Mr Stockbridge Mrs. Graham assures me that your sister can and will keep her own counsel absolutely, but I am wondering if we wish to bother so young a girl [illegible] matter."

THE CARD GAME

'I do not know your connection with the case of Mr Stockbridge," Mr Walters returned icily, "but if Mrs Graham wishes a third person at this interview the purpose of which is wholly dark to me, I prefer that my sister should also be present'

'I will try to make my position clear to you a little later," Lillian retorted good-humoredly "And of course we are very glad to have Miss Walters present Shall we go to the library?" She looked at me 'We shall be less likely to be disturbed there"

I rose and led the way to the library without further comment I think none of us felt in the mood for conversation Pretty Esther Walters was both bewildered and frightened, her brother, watchful, Lillian cool and inscrutable as ever, while I could not avoid a feeling of distinct resentment at the young attorney's attitude

Lillian brought out the folding card table and set chairs around it

'We might as well give this thing an air of plausibility ' she said motioning us to seats, and dealing the cards expertly 'If each of you will be good enough to take up your cards so that anyone coming into the room will think we were playing I'll play the dummy, for I am afraid I shall do most of the talking."

We all three obeyed her, although Mr Walters picked his cards up gingerly as if he suspected some explosive substance were hidden in them His sister, beginning to recover from her first fright, had now all the eagerness of youth for adventure Her eyes, fixed on Lillian were shining with excitement the carmine tint of her cheeks deepened

As for me, I was occupied with doubting wonder as to whether even Lillian's skill would be able to remove Mr Walters's erroneous ideas concerning my attitude toward Kenneth Stockbridge

Wife Called Burglar, He Wins His Decree

John H. Drolette has been awarded a divorce decree from his wife, Rose Drolette, in the Superior Court on the grounds that she "associated with criminals" and that on one occasion she was arrested with her brother and sister-in-law charged with burglary.

Drolette was given an interlocutory decree August 14, 1919, and received his final decree yesterday.

Besides charging that his wife Rose was arrested for burglary on March 8, 1919, Drolette alleged that she treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner, that she forced him to wash the dishes and refused to get up until a late hour in the morning. He further said that he was much humiliated to find that his wife's brother was an inmate of San Quentin penitentiary.

Bill Sikes' House Will Be Destroyed

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Another Dickens landmark is to be destroyed, the house where Bill Sikes met his death, as described in "Oliver Twist." It stands in a court on Jacob's Island, Bermondsey, and is being used now as a stable The house was identified by the finding of some old plans of Bermondsey dated 1855, on one of which was marked "Bill Sikes' house"

Realty Men Oppose Park for School Site

The Oakland Real Estate Board has taken a hand in the Independence Square controversy by taking to the City Council a resolution pleading that Independence Square be preserved as a public park and not given as a site for the new East Oakland High school.

"Oakland's parks are too few now," says the resolution.

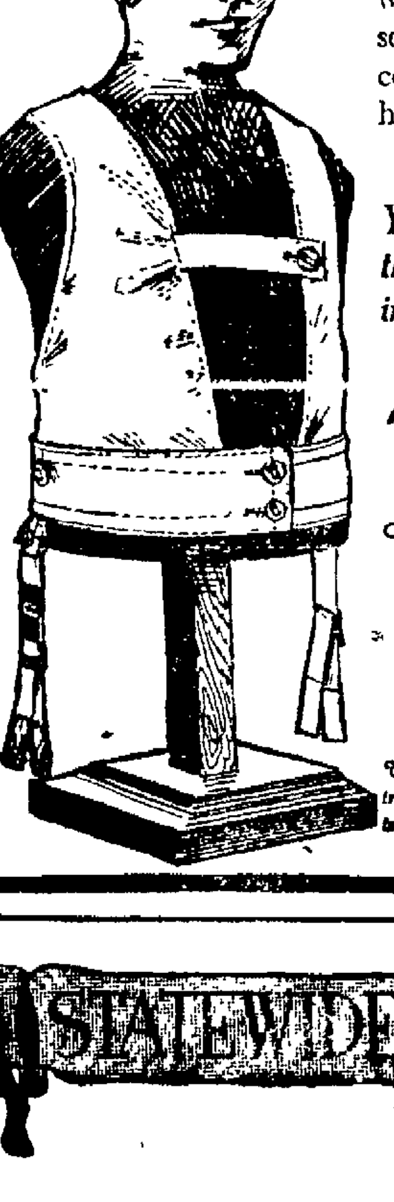

This follows the resolution of the Board of Education last night, asking for the northern end of the park for a school site and offering to trade its own land, opposite the park, for a playground. The Real Estate Board's resolution was filed.

A Tale and a Moral

Her husband left her $18,500 for herself and two invalid children. She drew it from the bank to transfer it to another. When she reached the other bank, her money was gone.

The recent loss of this inexperienced New York widow is not unusual. Many widows lose their inheritances; some by accidental loss; and others by unwise investment.

Protect your wife and family by leaving them an Independent Estate, the income to be paid to your wife as long as she lives; the principal then to be paid the children as you direct in your Trust Agreement.

You can build this Estate under the Bank of Italy Trust Plan by making convenient payments as your income permits. It is a sane, practical plan for the busy man. Write, call or phone for our booklet, the "Bank of Italy Trust Plan."

DIVORCE SUIT OF COUNTESS TO BE FOUGHT

RENO, Nev., Sept. 15.—Captain Raymond H. Mayberry, motion picture actor and said to be a nephew of Chief Justice Hammond of the Connecticut Supreme Court, today prepared to fight the annulment suit filed by Countess Ida von Claussen six days after their marriage.

"Not to prevent annulment," he said today, "but to prove that I am not a fortune hunter as she has charged."

Mayberry declared that he had reason to believe that the countess was never divorced from her second husband, Frank W. [illegible] of Donagan, he said, is now in New York.

The countess believed Mayberry married her simply to escape the ordeal of working, and further that he has refused to fulfill his marital obligations.

"I married him," she said in an interview, "to get rid of him. He has been following me about the country for two years, begging me to be his wife. He threatened to take poison if I did not."

Countess von Claussen on her second day in Reno announced she is a candidate for President. She declared she is approved by the committee of forty-eight and that a petition is being prepared for the recall of Parley P. Christensen.

Whole City Asked to Help Market for Ladies' Relief

Say, folks, remember that old phonograph record, that you are sick of hearing? Did you know that it could be turned into a beefsteak or a stew or a mess of beans for those 100 youngsters out in the Ladies' Relief Society Home or a custard for the sixteen silver-haired women who live there?

Come Saturday to the Market Day carnival, there will be in the City Hall plaza among the other forty booths where things to eat and things to wear and things to make one beautiful and happy and comfortable will be found, a Victrola exchange, where old records may be turned into dollars and where music lovers may find something new to add to their Victrola library. Maybe, folks, you would be glad to get rid of that familiar record in a good [illegible] for another in its place on Saturday. Bring it along to room 105 City Hall tomorrow, where the Market Day sponsors will give it welcome. Do not delay beyond Friday at the latest, if you want to help the kiddies a wee bit.

SHADOWGRAPHERS WANTED

Where are all the silhouette cutters? Not one has volunteered to help out in the Saturday Market yet. And what is a carnival without the scissor artist? So please, if you can make men and women and children live in the black paper, the paper will be furnished if you will lend some of your time.

Carpenters and workmen will begin the big task of building the City Hall plaza market tomorrow night. The donation of the Building Trades Council to the kiddies and their grandmothers out in Forty-fifth street, is the labor which goes into the erection of the booths and planning out the skeleton of the carnival.

To add to the merriment of the market, an open air musical program has been planned for the afternoon with a band concert at night, offered by the Chevrolet organization.

If anyone wants to know how they can help along the Ladies' Relief and its great benefit that is going to take care of the youngsters through the winter, just drop into the information tent at Fourteenth street and San Pablo avenue, or ring up Lakeside 5382.

NAVY CHECK IS HER BAD LUCK

"We will go over to the island for a bluff. I will get a bottle of booze. When I put the checks on the desk you grab one—and be sure and get the big one."

Such was the proposal of David Delaugher to Mrs. May E. Badzinski, 26 years old, which has landed her in jail on a charge of stealing and cashing a government check, according to her story to the arresting officers, Chief Charles F. Gailing of the United States secret service and Deputies Captain J. C. Taggart and William Ash.

Mrs. Badzinski, whose husband is a first class molder in the navy, said that she has been employed as a waitress in the Frisco Grill, Vallejo, where she met Delaugher and complained to him that she was "broke." Delaugher then outlined his scheme of defrauding the government, telling her that if she stole one of the checks in his custody it would not be missed for six months and that by then she would be "thousands of miles from here."

"We went over to Mare Island," Mrs. Badzinski told the officers in her confession, "about 7 o'clock. The guard never questioned him or me. When we went to the paymaster's office Delaugher took the checks out of a drawer and laid them on the desk. I took one. He knew that I had the check but I never showed it to him.

"I cashed it at the Frisco Grill, and the man didn't ask questions but gave me the amount on the face, $71.65."

Delaugher, who has been ordered under arrest, received the larger part of the money and spent it in San Francisco and Oakland, according to Mrs. Badzinski. It is expected that he will be in custody by night.

SCOTT DEMANDED $500, IS CLAIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. — A letter, said to have been written by W. S. Scott, secretary of the Team and Auto Truck Association, who with five other members has been indicted for conspiracy, has been turned over to District Attorney Brady as corroborative evidence of a charge that an "inner" ring of contractors has been operating to freeze out other concerns.

The letter is addressed to Bos & O'Brien and makes demand for $500 as initiation fee to the organization. "If you are going to figure on grading jobs I expect you to fill out this application and return the same accompanied by your check for $500," is a sentence which Bos & O'Brien say they construed as a threat.

PLANNED DEATH FOR LEGAL TRIO

The confession of Ralph Knight, railway draftsman of 4131 Opal street, that he planned to kill Superior Judge Peter J. Shields of Sacramento county after his attempt to kill Frank Gaffney and H. N. French, Sacramento attorneys, on Monday, is said to be in hands of the Sacramento police.

Knight was arrested after he fired five shots at the two lawyers, with whom he had a disagreement over a property settlement case. He is said to have told the police that he ran from the office of the lawyers and started for the courthouse, where he hoped to find Judge Shields.

At the courthouse Knight ran into the police station, where he told his story. He was asked if he would plead insanity as his defense and he replied:

"I'm sane all right, but my aim was poor."

Knight said that when he ran from the office of the attorneys he knew that he had missed Gaffney, but believed that he had killed French.

A warrant charging him with assault with intention to commit murder has been sworn to by Attorney French. Knight is 45 years old. He alleges that the two attorneys and Judge Shields swindled him out of several thousand dollars in the disposal of a house.

"The state is now paying an automobile apportionment of $2,300,000 to the counties," said Richardson, "and within a few days $5,000,000 will be paid to the counties for apportionment among the school districts. These two large amounts with other payments will run the total for the month up to nine or ten million dollars. While the state is rich in resources and its income in large, still there is need for strict economy in every state department."

W. H. JOHNSON of Portland, Oregon, who says no one could have done him any greater kindness than the friend who advised him to try Tanlac—gains fifteen pounds.

"Not in a long time have I enjoyed such good health or felt so well generally as I do since taking Tanlac," said W. H. Johnson, 319 East 43rd St., Portland, Ore., who holds a responsible position with the Northwest Transfer Company.

"About a year ago I began suffering from lack of appetite and stomach trouble and since that time—that is, until Tanlac set me right—I have felt so poorly that I could hardly do my work. My food seemed to do me little good, if any, as my digestion was bad, and I lost both weight and strength continually.

"After every meal there was a dull, nagging pain in the pit of my stomach that kept me feeling miserable for hours.

"The gas from my sour, undigested food would bloat me up terribly and my nerves were so upset that I would lie awake half the night unable to sleep. I was constantly having blinding dizzy spells and could not bend over and straighten up quickly but what everything seemed as dark as night to me.

"I was telling a friend one day how bad I felt and he advised me to try Tanlac, and I just want to say he couldn't have done me a greater kindness.

"I have picked up all of fifteen pounds in weight, my appetite is fine, and although I am eating just anything I want, my stomach never gives me a particle of trouble. My sleep is sound and restful and my strength and energy have been so renewed that my work is no longer a burden to me."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland and San Francisco by the Owl Drug Company Stores and Eberley's Quality Pharmacy, Alameda. — Advertisement.

Hobson Tells Another Side of Hop Story

J. C. Hobson, hop rancher, whose acres and kilns lie near Healdsburg, has inclined his pen to explain an incident which, he indicates might otherwise injure him among the hop pickers. The occasion arises through a letter which a hop picker has written to the press complaining of Hobson's treatment of laborers.

Recently, while a crew labored among the vines, the flood of hops came in so fast that the kilns were blocked and the hops spoiled in waiting sacks. The crew was, therefore, told it must rest the day while the dryers caught up.

The scene that ensued, Hobson indicates, was wholly the work of the disgruntled harvester who had written the letter. Hobson, in thus rising, declares he desires it known that his hop ranch is not only as good a place to work as another, but is better than a good many.

MRS. HARROLD ASKS DIVORCE SANS ALIMONY

Mrs. Madeline Clay Harrold, daughter of the late C. C. Clay, today filed suit for divorce from Henry Warren Harrold, to whom she was married April 22, 1913. The only charge in the complaint is failure to provide. The parties to the action refuse to state whether there is anything else back of the suit, or to discuss the matter in any way.

The wedding was a brilliant social event and the young couple were believed to be unusually happily married. They separated June 24 last. Mrs. Harrold still is living at their home, 297 Lee street.

Harrold is a young business man and a son of pioneer residents of Fruitvale. There are two children, aged 6 and 3, the custody of both of whom is asked by Mrs. Harrold. Property matters have been settled out of court and Mrs. Harrold does not ask any alimony.

PIONEER TEACHER PLEADS FOR PARK

An impassioned appeal for the preservation of Independence square as a park was made before the city council this morning by Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, who was one of the group of poineer Oakland citizens who was present when the park was first laid out.

"I was the one who selected the lot," said Mrs. Hamilton, "and in 1853 it was on the first official map of Oakland. I was one of the first school teachers in the city and I've lived here 52 years. Do not give the best part of that park for a school house."

A resolution of the Board of Education, asking the north end of the park for the new East Oakland high school, was referred to the park directors for an opinion.

The supervisors asked the council for fire protection for the city hospital in case of emergency. It was referred to Commissioner Morse.

Ordinances demanding the construction of full-width sidewalks on Broadway, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fifth streets were adopted and for cement sidewalks on Congress and Vicksburg avenues. The sidewalks must be laid in twenty days.

Commissioner Edwards started on a fifteen-day vacation this morning.

Woman Office Holder Feted By Anzacs

By EDNA B. KINARD

After a tour of Australia where she was feted as an interesting woman, and the only one of her sex in the United States holding the office of immigration director, Mrs. Charles Spinks is en route to her home in Berkeley. The long itinerary which was partially arranged when she left with her mother and sons to include a run through the Orient and several other tempting countries was completely disarranged when Mrs Spinks became critically ill. As soon as the physicians gave the signal that she was recovered sufficiently to travel, immediately she began to plan her homeward voyage. The sons were as eager to return as she, declaring that everything they saw and ate came from the United States anyway and they might as well be at home. On Sunday the party arrived in Vancouver, B. C., where they were joined by Spinks. They are due home this week.

The nurses are having a full share in the National Public Health Conference which is being held in San Francisco with the Alameda County Association acting as semi hostess to the visitors of their profession who are here. A luncheon at Tait's tomorrow and a tea on Friday at the Fairmont are being arranged to compliment the strangers with the California, but more particularly the bay cities' members of the profession.

A serious turn will be given their participation in the conference on Friday night in the Lane Hospital lecture room when Dr. Mazyck P. Rademel will discuss the health problems on the ballot of 1920. Mrs. Barbara Bartlett, R. N., of the Public Health service in Washington University, will be a second speaker. The Public Health Service Film by Miss Agnes Talcott, R. N., of the Department of Health in Los Angeles, will be presented.

Did you hear what happened down in the West Oakland Home this summer? First of all the sixty boys and girls had to be disposed of. So a long vacation of two months was arranged at Moss Beach where there is everything to interest kiddies. It took a lot of people, including Mrs William Amann, president; Lawrence, Cunningham, Reed Bekin and E. C. Lyon to look after the expenses of the exodus. But it was made and without cost, at that. Then with the youngsters safely out of the way, the old Campbell street house was given a new coating of paint inside and out. Mrs. O. F. Olsen, chairman of the board of managers, managed to find enough crisp curtains and new shades for all the many windows and lo, here it was a bright, fresh, charming place to come back to. Everybody who helped the West Oakland Home last year had a share in putting on that paint and in those curtains and shades.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Oakland has outgrown its luncheon headquarters and that is why tomorrow the Thursday program is announced at Hotel Harrison. Mrs Gladys Barndollar, who spent the summer touring the east, will speak. The membership drive which has added large numbers of women engaged in business and the professions in Oakland to the roster ends next month.

A dinner dance will open the new season of the Home Club tomorrow night with the board of directors presiding as hostesses.

The Glenview Women's Club plan a neighborhood card party on Wednesday evening, September 29.

Miss Lucile Sleeper and Charles Lee Bowman are to wed this afternoon at 4 o'clock, the ceremony to be read by Rev. L. B. Hillis, Episcopal minister, an old friend of the family. The decorative plan will be followed out in yellow and pink, with asters, tiger lilies and dahlias used in the appointment of the improvised altar at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George W. Sleeper, in Hilgard avenue, with only relatives and very intimate friends as guests.

Miss Sleeper is to be married in a handsome gown of cream satin, veiled in imported Belgian lace, embroidered in seed pearls. The bridal veil of finely embroidered tulle and lace is an heirloom in the family and was worn by the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Addie Lee Sleeper.

The bride's shower bouquet will be of roses and cyclamen with maidenhair and tulle.

The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Staats, will be gowned in coral organdie and will carry shell pink rose buds.

The trio of bridesmaids—the Misses Elizabeth Eyde, Marion Blankenship and Viola Bowman—will wear pastel shades of organdie. Miss Eyde will wear blue, Miss Bowman orchid and Miss Blankenship yellow. Their shower bouquets will be of pink sweet peas, scabiosis and roses. Little Myrle Sleeper will be in lavender and will carry a basket of rose petals. Captain Harris Allen will be best man.

An informal tea and reception will follow the ceremony, after which Bowman and his bride will leave for a motor trip through the south.

Bowman is the son of the A. L. Bowmans, and was a student at the University of California.

Miss Sleeper was in her junior year at college.

The future home of the couple will be in this city.

Kuehling Exonerated in Heiress' Drowning

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. — Roy H. Kuehling, held by the police for investigation in connection with the drowning of his wife, Gertrude V. Kuehling, was released today after the grand jury in the District of Columbia Court had voted not to return an indictment against him. Kuehling was exonerated by a coroner's jury yesterday from blame in connection with the death of his wife, which occurred while they were canoeing on the Potomac river last week.

WILL ASK FOR SURVEY.

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 15 — Governor C. J. McCarthy has announced that he will present a concurrent resolution to the territorial legislature in November asking the co-operation of the federal government in a geodetic survey of Hawaiian waters. The recent Pan-Pacific Scientific Congress held here pointed out the danger in the absence of data on the island coasts.

ARMISTICE DAY FETE IS PLANNED

Inauguration of a plan to celebrate Armistice Day in Oakland and the start of negotiations which are expected to result in the replacing in service by the Santa Fe of "The Saint" and "The Angel," featured last evening's meeting of the Merchants' Exchange.

The exchange notified the railroad company that it would promise support to the trains if put back on the Los Angeles run, and also decided to renew its efforts to persuade the Southern Pacific Company to build a new station at Fourteenth and Franklin.

A number of residents from the neighborhood of Independence park on East Nineteenth street appeared to protest the city's plan to build a school in the park. Such a plan, it was said, would rob the city of park land. A committee was appointed to investigate and report at a later meeting.

In the future the Merchants' Exchange may take charge of the county exhibits at the State Fair in Sacramento as a result of discussion of this year's exhibit. With $500 advanced by the county the exhibitors returned with $650 in prizes, the exchange was told.

The Armistice Day plans have been put in the hands of Harry Williams, who will announce his committees within a few days.

The traffic meeting to be held here on September 28 will attract shippers from the entire Pacific coast and will be larger than its originators had contemplated. It is probable that there will be between 600 and 700 present to enter into a discussion of the various shipping problems which have come with the signing of the armistice, the raise in rail rates, and the opening of Oriental channels of trade. Switching costs and yard regulations are to be among the principal topics presented. Fred Parr, J. O. Lawrence and J. L. Howard will be Oakland speakers.

WOMAN GUILTY OF CRUELTY TO STEP-DAUGHTER

PETALUMA, Sept. 15. — Mrs. Mattie Bryant, wife of Will Bryan of this city, pleaded guilty in Judge Gallagher's court last night to a charge of cruelty to Fern Bryan, the ten-year-old daughter of her husband by a former marriage. She was sentenced to serve ninety days in the county jail at Santa Rosa.

According to witnesses, the little child was eating supper at the home about a month ago and did not eat quickly enough to suit the stepmother, it is alleged, and she is said to have stuffed hot potatoes in her mouth, badly burning the child. It is alleged the child was then put to bed and that the injuries were not learned until the next day, when neighbors discovered that the child's mouth was badly swollen.

CATHOLICS PROTEST.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 15.—Protesting against treatment received by white women at the hands of French colonial negro troops in the occupied Rhine territory, the sixty-fourth national convention of the National Catholic General Society concluded its business last night.

NATION LEAGUE DEFENDED BY COX

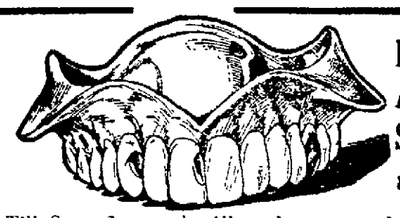

POCATELLO, Ida., Sept. 15. — Governor James M. Cox, speaking here this morning, challenged Senator Harding and the Republicans to present a definite international plan better than the League of Nations.

"The things for critics to do is to give us something better or maintain silence," he said. "The covenant has been made a political football in the hope of winning this election. History will record the Senate conspiracy to hold up civilization by its heels as one of the most reprehensible of all time."

A crowd of nearly 1500 was waiting for Cox at Pocatello despite the early hour of his arrival. The governor's voice was still somewhat hoarse.

COLORED MAN ON BALLOT.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 15.—T. J. Terral, secretary of state, last night announced that the name of J. H. Blount, negro, will appear on the ballot in the November general election as a candidate for governor.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1920.

HARDING TO CALIFORNIA.

Senator Harding discussed two subjects of large popular interest to Californians in his speech yesterday to the delegation of Republicans from this State who went to Marion to present him with information regarding local conditions. Senator Harding displayed an understanding that should commend him to every California citizen.

The first subject is that of protection for California products. It is of vital importance. Senator Harding dwelt on the fact that the time has come when the United States is ceasing to be a food exporting nation, and must look to establishing a guarantee that it be self-sustaining. "We have adequate national and international reasons for keeping alive our necessary agricultural industries when they are threatened by competition from lands of cheap labor or new exploited soil by a protective duty upon our imports of food," said the presidential candidate. Speaking directly to California's position, Senator Harding continued:

"I think a case in point is your own citrus and other fruit industries of California. America must ask herself if she will allow these industries to be threatened in their very existence by the invasion of foreign grown fruits, cultivated, in some cases, under a subsidy given by a foreign government, by labor which knows nothing of our own American standards of living. My answer is that just as the fruit growers of California are willing to put America first, so must America be first in upholding their efforts, and that if to save this or any other worthy and developing agricultural industry of America, tariff protection is necessary, then tariff protection must be given."

The truth of this statement is patent to all, even to those who heard the Democratic vice presidential candidate, Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assert on the occasion of his recent visit here that the tariff issue is a joke. It is no joke to American producers of soil products, whether they live and labor in California or any other State of the Union. "Preservation of agriculture is a vital, all-American interest, and above all the interest of the consumer."

THE JAPANESE QUESTION

The other subject which Senator Harding discussed was the Japanese problem. Happily he showed a comprehension of the significance of the growing Japanese population to Californians and also of the spirit in which the settlement of the issue it has raised between the American and Japanese governments should be settled. There is notice of a firm determination to protect America, but nothing of the jingo in his remarks.

Four sets of obligations are involved in the Japanese question, said Senator Harding, and they are the same four obligations to which THE TRIBUNE frequently has called attention. They are our obligations as a nation to a great foreign power, the obligation of that foreign power to us as a nation, the obligation of all America toward California and others of the group of States most acutely involved in the question, and also the obligation of that group of States to the nation. These are phases of the Japanese question which no one should overlook, least of all the politicians who are reckless to utter anything promising to gain votes.

Senator Harding will not, as was to be expected, play jingo politics with this delicate question, but he does say in sober, earnest manner, that the nation owes it to the Pacific Coast States to stand behind them in necessary measures consistent with our national honor to relieve them of their difficulties.

In a broader way Senator Harding discussed the subject of an American policy in the Pacific basin. He showed that he entertained the same wide vision and statesmanlike ideas of our opportunities and duties in the Pacific as were exemplified by James G. Blaine, John Hay and Theodore Roosevelt. We predict that Japan will peruse the following with abiding interest, as all Americans should:

"Our two nations are the natural leaders as guardians of the peace of the Pacific, though I do not mean to ignore the great part Britain must play because of her vast dominions. Acting in fine friendship with Japan, it is possible by international action, friendly financial and commercial cooperation, to erect a joint policy of greatest good to the Far East and its peaceful development. By working with the liberal and anti-military forces within Japan, which have now reached predominance, America can exercise her greatest influence in substituting for territorial aggression, the peaceful, righteous reclamation of oppressed and impoverished peoples on the Asian mainland by the means of commerce and financing. Japan has even more than we at stake. She, at the island stronghold in the center of disorganized peoples, is the outstanding, self-governing people within a radius of 3,000 miles. Her responsibilities and opportunities are great indeed, and she knows full well that they can best be fulfilled by friendly cooperation with America.

"Therefore, her interest in removing all sources of irritation is equal to, if not greater, than ours, and I, and all Americans, shall regard her and her people as wise enough to continue to assist in solving the question of Japanese immigration, so that, not only shall new and more stringent understandings be made, and not only all understandings shall be observed officially, but so that evasions of these agreements by individual Japanese shall be completely stopped by the vigorous watchfulness of the cooperating authority of the United States and Japan."

With such assurances as these direct from the Republican candidate to the people of California and the Pacific Coast, the voters are enabled to see their duty. They know they can make no mistake in selecting Senator Harding for the Presidency.

SCUTTLERS MOVE AGAIN.

In order to carry their scuttling plan a bit further, the majority clique of anti civil service members of the City Council yesterday passed three proposed amendments to the city charter which will be placed on the ballot of the November election. The commissioners voting for these propositions were Morse, Soderberg and Edwards. Mayor Davie voted "No." Commissioner Baccus was absent.

The most important of the amendments proposed is that denying the right of municipal employees to appeal to the civil service commission from dismissal or suspension by a commissioner. The employee may have a hearing on the charges against him, but this hearing must be before the man who discharged or dismissed him. Naturally such a hearing would be an unqualified farce.

When the city charter was adopted the people ordained that a municipal employee might be dismissed or suspended for cause but that he should have the right to appeal to a non-prejudiced board, the civil service commission, for a hearing of the causes of his dismissal. If no cause connected with the performance of duty was proved, the employee was in the discretion of the civil service commission to be restored to duty.

Nothing could be plainer than the purpose of this provision of the charter. It was to prevent political motives from displacing competent public servants. It was to destroy the spoils system in municipal politics—the system of boodle and graft and inefficiency and the payment of political debts with official favor. Nearly every city in the country adopted the same provision as a necessary prelude to closing the era of municipal rottenness in the United States.

The amendment which the anti-civil service members of the City Council have voted to submit to the people would kill the civil service commission completely for all it was designed to accomplish. It is a proposal which if approved will mean the restoration of the system of political spoils and grafting and inefficiency and rottenness in the city government. It is a reactionary, destructive move which the scuttlers propose.

There is only one thing for the people who desire honest government, who desire protection against spoliation, to do, and that is to vote against the proposed amendment. The citizens who love good government should see to it that every qualified voter goes to the polls and votes against the proposition.

Another proposed amendment which Commissioners Morse, Edwards and Soderberg propose is to take out of civil service the positions of building inspector, wharfinger, license inspector, chemist, market, food and plumbing inspectors, the secretaries to commissioners and assistant city attorneys. This is to increase the political patronage of the majority clique in the city council, to enable Commissioners Morse, Edwards and Soderberg to augment the political machine, which, with the assistance of City Attorney Hagan and City Clerk Cummings, already has reached considerable dimensions.

A third proposed amendment is that to require all persons who desire to sign a recall election to go to the city hall to do so. This would have the certain effect of nullifying the recall law, as the commissioners well know and design. It is also a reactionary movement. If the recall is bad law and its use not desired let the commissioners and the other opponents of the recall have the manhood and simple honesty to come out in the open and urge its repeal. To compel every one who desires to sign a recall petition to go to the city hall is a crooked, tortuous way. If the amendment was adopted and one of the commissioners should be made the subject of a recall the people most likely would be required to walk to the twelfth floor of the city hall to sign the petitions.

Like the proposal to deprive public servants of the right of appeal against dismissal by political opportunists, the second and third proposals of Commissioners Morse, Edwards and Soderberg should be voted down by the people on November the 2nd. They are reactionary, destructive proposals and have no proper place in the system of city government.

NOTES and COMMENT

The news from Maine is in line with the forecasts, only a good deal more so. And there does not seem to be a loophole through which the results can be extenuated. The country has simply had enough of that which it has had to have for nearly eight years.

* * *

An interesting "hope" is that of the French baron sojourning in Chicago that in consequence of the death in Paris of Mrs. Jack Pickford, under circumstances not absolutely creditable, the wild night life there will be curbed. It will be news if the wild night life of Paris gets a jolt from an American visitor. It has been generally charged that Americans go there to learn, not to teach.

* * *

A part of the news from Maine is the statement that Secretary Daniels participated in the campaign, making speeches. That goes a considerable way toward explaining the rather emphatic result.

* * *

Three accounts of gun accidents in one issue—boy on his way to slay deer is shot when rifle falls over, man "seen to move" in the brush, thus emulating a deer, is pinked and boy of 4 shoots tot with a rifle. It can at least be suggested that some clever scheme might be devised to keep the family rifle away from kids no older than four.

* * *

Oakland marksmanship is severely compromised in the adventure of Ralph Knight, who fired three shots at one Sacramento attorney, and one shot at another without hitting even an innocent bystander. Perhaps he will come on with the explanation that Sacramento attorneys are elusive, in which case groundwork for an argument will be laid.

* * *

Cox's outdoor speeches have been cancelled. If this is campaign strategy it might be possible to enlarge upon it by cancelling the indoor speeches also.

* * *

Mr. Bryan contends that a person has as much right to be silent as to be garrulous. There is no question of the right. But when one has been garrulous for a quarter of a century and suddenly goes mute it is bound to be noticed.

Doubtless there is wild rejoicing at Tiajuana. It was expected that the lid would be clamped tight under the new order and a fifty-mile dry strip measured off all along the line. Instead, the lid has been deliberately lifted. Those interested in booze and gambling will sound the tocsin, but those whose approval is important in establishing relations with the new regime may not be favorably impressed.

At the session of the American Meat Packers at Atlantic City it was declared that the profits of packers is only 5.5 per cent. Where the money paid for all kinds of meat supplies slips away to is therefore a mystery, for stock raisers are complaining bitterly that they find it a losing game, while the ultimate consumer will find no difficulty in proving that he is doing his part.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

There has even been more or less friction between the legal and the ethical. For instance underworld women are without the law; but women who sell themselves in marriage, act legally if unethically. Recently a young woman filed suit for more than a half million damages against a 72-year-old husband, who, she claimed, had promised her $700,000 as a marriage gift. The woman didn't get her $700,000 and now wants to call the marriage off, which is exactly what she would have done at the earliest possible moment had the aged codger come through with the $700,000.—Hanford Sentinel.

Because she "didn't know it was loaded," Mrs. Annie Nevis on Friday afternoon playfully pointed a .44 caliber revolver at her sister, Mrs. Louisa Joseph, and pulled the trigger. A loud report followed and the contents of the cartridge struck Mrs. Joseph in the corner of the mouth, making a frightful wound. According to Dr. Cope, the wound will not be fatal.—Pleasanton Times.

The sum of $1200 an acre is being realized by the hop growers at Wheatland. On this basis the Dursts will make $1,000,000 from their 800 acres of hops this year. The Wolf Hop Company from eighty acres realized $150,000. — Dixon Tribune.

Oakdale section had a bumper grain harvest valued at $750,000, which doesn't sound as if the old valley had gone plumb to the Japanese yet.—Stockton Record.

Up in some of the northern counties teacherages are being established to take care of the teacher who may have a mother or children and who may wish to keep house instead of boarding. It is a concession to the fact that a single woman may be the head of a family. It is also one way to bid for the capable teacher who might be prevailed upon to stay awhile if she were established in a home of her own.—Stockton Record.

A SCOOP

UNCLE SAM'S SUPPLY OF MONEY

By DR. FRANK M. SURFACE.

Washington, Sept. 14, 1920.

The total business transacted in the United States is measured roughly by the bank clearings of the country. In 1914 these clearings amounted to $163,850,000,000. For 1915 the figure was practically the same but in 1916 it rose to $242,236,000,000; in 1917 to $305,044,000,000; in 1918 to $320,988,000,000 and in 1919 to $387,092,000,000. For the present year the total bank clearings to the end of August amount to $262,496,579,000 compared with $233,120,503,000 in the corresponding period last year. This is an increase of 12.6 per cent. If this same ratio holds for the year, the total clearings in 1920 will be about $483,000,000,000. Compared with 1914 our total bank clearings in 1919 represent an increase of 136 per cent and for the estimated figure for 1920 the increase would be 198 per cent.

To a very large extent this increase in bank clearings is caused by the increased price of commodities and we find that the increase in the wholesale price index in a general way parallels the increase in bank clearings. For 1918 the wholesale index of the Department of Labor showed an increase of 96 per cent over 1914 compared with 96 per cent increase in bank clearings. In 1919 the price index was 112 per cent above 1914 and the bank clearings show an increase of 136 per cent. For the first seven months of 1920 the average wholesale index shows 150 per cent increase over 1914 while estimated bank clearings are 198 per cent greater.

The transaction of business involving nearly 200 per cent increase must of necessity require a larger stock of money. The Federal Reserve Board compiles monthly figures showing the total amount of money of all kinds in the United States. On July 1, 1914, the total stock of all kinds of money including gold, silver, and paper was $3,763,181,000. By April 1, 1917, when we entered the war, the stock of money had increased to $5,312,109,000; an increase of 42 per cent. On July 1, 1918, it was $6,742,226,000 or 80 per cent greater than in 1914. On July 1, 1919, it had risen to $1,780,794,000 or 108 per cent above 1914. By the first of last January the stock of money reached the peak figure of $7,961,320,000 or 113 per cent above the pre-war stock. Since then there has been some fluctuation with the total on July 1 at $7,887,182,000.

Bank clearings have thus increased somewhat faster than the stocks of money, the relative increases for 1919 being about 136 and 100, respectively.

The increase in our stock of money has occurred partly in the amount of gold which rose from $1,800,678,000 in 1914 to $2,687,513,000 last July although the latter figure represents a decrease of about $400,000,000 from the high point in 1919. The chief increase in money has occurred in Federal Reserve Notes and Federal Reserve Bank Notes. Neither of these currencies were in existence in 1914. Of the former there were $3,405,877,000 in circulation on July 1, 1920, and $201,226,000 of the latter. The supply of national bank notes and United States notes has remained about stationary but the stock of silver has decreased about $250,000,000 since the passage of the Pittman Act in 1918.

Of the total money in the United States on July 1, 1920, $485,057,000 was held in the United States Treasury chiefly as gold coin and bullion while $2,021,272,000 was held by the Federal Reserve Banks and agents. The remainder of $5,380,852,000, or about 70 per cent of the total supply, represents the amount in actual circulation; that is, in the banks, in commercial establishments and in the pockets of the people. Of this latter amount, $3,121,000,000 is in Federal Reserve notes which thus supply about 60 per cent of the total money in actual circulation. The actual percentage of Federal Reserve notes used in every-day business transactions involving currency transfers is, of course, very much greater. Such money as gold coin, gold certificates, etc., is used chiefly as bank assets. Of the remaining moneys held outside the Treasury and the Federal Reserve system, $693,000,000 is in National Bank notes, $415,000,000 in gold coin; $280,000,000 in United States notes and $324,000,000 in silver. The remainder is chiefly gold and silver certificates.

SEPTEMBER

By Henry Meade Bland.

A twitter of wrens, a rustle of leaves,
How sweet 'tis to remember
Such is the magic nature weaves
When it is mild September.

A gossamer on the gentle wind,
White as the snow of December,
Bright as a spirit unconfined,
And it is mild September.

A hooker-call from the clear blue sky
Prophetic of November,
'Tis answered by the flock's high cry,
Yes, it is mild September.

A zephyry odor from the pine,
Light as a flashing ember;
A lark-song with a lilt divine—
Oh, it is mild September!

METHODISTS OF TWO STATES MEET FOR CONFERENCE

Meeting to review the work of the past year and discuss plans for a greater extension of the foreign missionary service of the Methodist Episcopal church, 250 pastors and 750 laymen gathered today for a week in the California conference at the first church of this city.

Today's program comprised an organization and general business meeting in the morning with memorial services and memoirs for officials of the church who have died during the year, and an appreciation of Bishops John H. Vincent and Mathew S Hughes by Bishop Adna W. Leonard who is in charge of the San Francisco area of the church with jurisdiction over California, Arizona and Nevada. This session was preceded by a reception of the evening before to Bishop Leonard, with addresses by Rev. John Stephens, pastor of the entertaining church, a musical program and a refreshment service by the Ladies' Aid Society headed by Mrs. A. Hutchison. Bishop Leonard answered the addresses and the speaking was followed by contributions from Mrs. Eessie Roland, church organist, a baritone selection by Fred Anderson and a trio offering by Miss Marion Nicholson, Miss Irene Stratton and Mrs. Roland.

The proposal to move the College of the Pacific from San Jose to Oakland or Stockton was tabled.

The anniversary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, Mrs. Adna W. Leonard, wife of Bishop Leonard presiding, took up the afternoon. The annual report of the year's activities was given by Mrs. Charles C. Lombard This branch of the missionary division of the Methodist Episcopal church is the Pacific branch and has sent out 46 women missionaries to posts in the far and the near east, including the Philippines, Japan, China and India, and at present maintains over 24 on active service. Former citizens of Oakland who are engaged in the foreign field work for the local branch are Elizabeth Marvin and Kate Grace Wythe, whose stations are in China and Japan respectively; Evelyn B. Baugh of Petaluma who is likewise detailed to China and is at present visiting the conference here. Mary Ames Hart from San Francisco and Clara Grace Barstow of Petaluma are also in the missionary field service.

Among the week's events will be an address by David P. Barrows, president of the University of California, on "Europe Revisited," Friday evening. Most of the other addresses to be given are by officials and clergymen of the Methodist church, including Dr M P Burns of Philadelphia, Rev. H. E. Milnes, superintendent of the local district, Dr F. P. Flegel, Napa superintendent; Mrs. Cedora Cheney, deaconess of the First Church here; Mrs. C. B. Burwell, secretary, Oliver C Lauzure, chaplain of the state penitentiary at San Quentin, and Dr. C. Dollar Day Sales Attract Large Crowds of Shoppers

Department store managers of the city united in declaring that Dollar Day sales today were the greatest sales event ever held in Oakland. Far surpassing other dollar days held by Oakland merchants in years back, it is said that the magnitude of business transacted today by any sigle house was as great as on any special day in the history of local merchandising.

Unusual values for $1 were to be found on the counters of every downtown store in the city early in the day and as time wore on, with hundreds of shoppers besieging them, the counters gradually were emptied of their wares

OFFERINGS LARGE

Dollar Day offerings were more than three times the number of the largest previous dollar day. Practically every store in the downtown shopping section had dollar day offerings with which to attract the shoppers.

Immense crowds thronged Washington, Fourteenth, Clay and the other thoroughfares of the shopping district all through the day. Guided by the advertisements of the city's progressive merchants, many waited at the doors before stores opened this morning in order to obtain first pick of the choicer bargains which they know would soon disappear from the counters

SPECIAL CLERKS

More than a hundred special sales clerks, cashiers, package wrappers and transfer clerks were employed by local stores in order to handle the crowds Store workers worked far into last night and the early hours of this morning in all of the stores preparing the counters and display shelves for the onslaught of customers today

In some places the eagerness to purchase brought violence In one of the local hardware stores people fought with each other to buy $1 frying pans and the entire stock for sale was disposed of while the crowd fought to get at the counter.

When the stock got down to the last frying pan two women engaged in a severe tussle for the pan while others near them sought to take it for their own

ATTORNEY HOLDS CLIENT'S LETTER IS CONFIDENTIAL

Whether the $5000 bail of Milton Clark, charged with robbing the Hotel Whitecotton of money and valuables worth $2200, will be forfeited and whether his attorney, Henry Davie, will be forced to take the witness stand and reveal the whereabouts of his client in Texas, will be decided late today by Judge W. M Conley in the superior court

It is charged that Clark while employed as night clerk at the hotel in Berkeley, on March 21, 1918, absconded with jewelry worth $2100, $108 in cash and clothing. Clark is said to have fled to Minneapolis, where he married a rich woman and had established himself in the hotel business, but was discovered by the authorities there and brought back to Oakland.

He was released under $5000 bond and is alleged to have fled to Texas, where he has gone into business again with his wife.

WOULD APPEAR.

Attorney Davie appeared before Judge Conley today and promised that his client would appear in court October 1 if the time of trial could be extended Assistant District Attorney John U Calkins demanded that Davie be placed on the witness stand and forced to tell where his client is located.

Davie objected on the grounds that a letter from Clark was a privileged communication and Judge Conley reserved his decision.

The district attorneys' office declares that Clark was involved in a similar robbery of a hotel in San Diego, where he is alleged to have escaped with a large amount of cash left in the hotel safe by a collector

LIVED IN OAKLAND.

Calkins charged in court this morning that Clark is a clever crook who makes a practice of jumping bail, after having robbed hotels

Clark was living at the Hotel Athens in Oakland at the time he is alleged to have robbed the Hotel Whitecotton He had all his stuff packed at the hotel, but never returned for it He was in the Minneapolis jail charged with conducting a disorderly house when an amateur sleuth recognized him through identification pictures and notified the Oakland authorities. Clark was then brought here and his trial was set for today

Clark according to his attorney, is in business with his wife in a Texas town

PLUMBING IN SCHOOLS DECLARED CAUSE OF 5 DEATHS AMONG GIRLS

BERKELEY, Sept 15.—A letter condemning as insanitary and a menace to health of children, the plumbing of seven of the city's schools, including the high school, was today addressed to the Board of Education by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Charles D. Heywood.

While the city has no law by means of which the plumbing can be condemned, according to Heywood, his department is preparing one

The plumbing at the Emerson school is particularly bad, according to Heywood's letter. To the high school plumbing Heywood says the health department attributes the cases of diphtheria in the school recently

Besides the Emerson and the high school other schools named in Heywood's letter are the Franklin, Columbus, Hawthorne, Jefferson and Longfellow

DEATH AND ILLNESS LAID TO PLUMBING

Investigations of sanitary conditions began three weeks ago, following the death of Miss Georgia Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs George L. Schneider, 1021 Mariposa avenue, from diphtheria, supposedly contracted during a peculiar incident at the Berkeley high school Miss Schneider and seved other girls were accidentally locked in a dressing room for three hours The report of Health Officer Ernest Pape to Heywood revealed that in addition to the illness and death of Miss Schneider, one other of the eight had contracted the disease and the remaining six are "positive carriers."

Five deaths so far have resulted in the student body of the school, numbering 1500, and according to Pape there are at present thirteen active cases while a recent examination of students and faculty showed that 25 per cent are carriers of diphtheria Following the taking of the cultures the school was closed last Wednesday and remained so until Monday, the carriers which had been discovered by Pape being ordered to their homes.

Heywood, in criticizing the Berkeley Board of Education for its neglect of the high school plumbing, said that he would order the school closed.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HEAD DENIES BLAME

The Board of Education cannot be blamed for the diphtheria in the high school, according to President Roy I. Woolsey.

"Half of Berkeley's schools are defective," says Woolsey, "but the Board of Education is doing all within its power to remedy conditions. The school bond program is being carried out as rapidly as possible and as soon as the new high school is completed conditions which are now objectionable will be remedied. I do not think that the epidemic of disease at the high school can be blamed to plumbing conditions, however"

Councilman Heywood, in attacking sanitary conditions at the high school, declares that the present condition of affairs was brought to the attention of the school heads six months ago He states that if the type of plumbing now used in the high school existed in apartment houses or other dwellings that the owners would be arrested.

"The health department does not claim, however that the plumbing at the high school is responsible for the five deaths and thirteen active cases of diphtheria at the school, but it does believe that the maintenance of this style of plumbing in the school endangers the health of all the pupils," says Heywood 'We have learned that three weeks ago eight girl pupils were accidentally locked in a lavatory at the school by faulty combination locks and were not released for some time Of these eight girls one has died from diphtheria, another is ill with the disease at present and the other six are positive carriers."

Financial Powers Consort To Develop Far East

NEW YORK, Sept 15. — The Far East bids fair to become the greatest foreign field in the world for American manufacture and enterprise. If properly developed by our businessmen and investors, declared Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., today, following his return from the Orient, where he participated in the formation of the new consortium to place China on a firmer economic foundation

European nations have learned, he said, that the policy of the warship and "grab" is outworn, and that they can best serve their interests and those of China by stopping the race for concessions and by adopting plans for co-operation

Financial assistance is to be given China by the new consortium, composed of strong banking groups in Great Britain, France, Japan and the United States. Lamont declared the consortium was formed "on the American basis of a free and full partnership," and thought it should stabilize China, which, he said, was looking to America as "her guide, her counselor and her friend."

"A great system of railways must be built over there" he said, pointing out China would require considerable American steel, bridges, equipment, farming implements, cotton mill and mining machinery and machine making tools

"To keep 400,000,000 people supplied with moving picture shows," he added, "would be quite a task even for Americans."

"Siberia is in need of American machinery and methods," he continued, "as well as men who would develop its rich agriculture, timber and mining resources. It is readily able to support 100,000,000 persons, though its present population is only 13,000,000.

"The Russian soviets have gained a foothold there, but the Simon-pure brand of Bolshevism has not flourished The people of Siberia are already landholders.

"Japan is commercially handicapped," Lamont said, "by the policy of the so-called military party, whose philosophy of force clashes with the manufacturer and great merchants and bankers.

"The businessmen believe their nation's development should be along lines of peaceful trade and the cultivation of good will, while the military party "which of recent years has been so strong as almost to constitute an actual super-government, still thinks the world is ruled by force rather than by ideas.

"At the present time this policy, which has resulted in tremendous taxation to maintain the army and navy, will prevent American cooperation on a large scale in developing Japan's industries"

Referring to the immigration difficulties with Japan, Lamont thought the United States "ought to be able to devise a formula that would meet the view of California and at the same time measurably satisfy the Japanese."

SURVEY OF ALL TRAFFIC OVER ESTUARY ASKED

An extensive survey of the traffic crossing the Oakland estuary at the five points where it is bridged and a study and forecast of probable future requirements for connection between Oakland and Alameda is to be launched Monday at a meeting of the joint bridge committee in the Hotel Oakland.

A call for the meeting was sent out today by Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee is one named three months ago. It consists of representatives of the county government and representatives of the Southern Pacific Company, which has tracks over two of the bridges which now cross the estuary.

The members are: For the county, Charles E Hewes, city manager of Alameda, Joseph E. Caine and Percy A Haviland, county surveyor; for the railroad, W. H. Kirkbride, engineer of maintenance of way, and Lance Richardson, district freight agent.

"The meeting Monday will be the first that the committee has had," Caine says "At this time we will discuss the traffic situation on the estuary bridges and outline a plan for an extensive survey of the future needs When our survey is completed it will be presented to the supervisors and the railroad company in the form of a report and will include recommendations concerning the bridging of the estuary."

She was most angry and called the boss a horsethief and a robber and such sweet names, and said she'd never send another stitch, nor pay for this unless they found her buttonhole.

The little four-rounders are ready to entertain the cash customers and Gimme boys tonight at the Auditorium, but if they fight to form the card should be worth while. Matchmaker Simpson has lined up battlers of all sizes and the boys who like to wager are having a hard time picking the probable winners. Young Carmen, the kid who tackles Jimmy Dundee in the main event, is somewhat of a mystery. He licked Battling Vierra once and Teddy O'Hara twice, and there is no telling how good he really is. Carmen came into town without any blare of trumpets and he got into the game as a preliminary boy before the fans discovered he was a main-eventer in the effete East. Carmen was content to fight his way to the front instead of talking himself to the top of the card and his method has proved quite successful. He appears in the main event this evening and he will enter the ring carrying the confidence of the customers who were present at his three previous fights here.

In the O'Hara fights Carmen showed everything but a punch. He smacked poor Teddy on the chin until he was arm weary but the Watts Tract lad kept on his pins despite the bombardment. And never let it be said that Carmen did not put everything he had behind those clouts. He saw that O'Hara was a mark for a right hand swing so he measured and leveled. Every one of the meaught Teddy right on the point but the local lad refused to get acquainted with the canvas. O'Hara was never considered a bear for punishment. He wasn't even given credit for being game but in his two starts with the eastern featherweight Teddy showed that he was game and also that there was little steam behind the Carmen punches.

Dundee Thinks He Will Win Easily

Dundee laughs when told about the Carmen right hand swing.

"Gee, you must think I'm an awful sap if you expect me to stand still and let this bird wallop me on the jaw. Maybe O'Hara liked the sensation but not little Jimmy Dundee. I got more respect for my good looks than to let any of these birds poke me at will. When Carmen starts that right hand I will be there but when it stops I will be somewhere else. In and out, left hook to the stomach and a right cross to the jaw. That's the way to beat the Carmen kind of fighters. Say, if they were all like Carmen Pete Nolan would be training the champion of the world."

Carmen has been working in a San Jose gymnasium and a big crowd of Valley fans will be at the ringside tonight to slip him the big hand. Down San Jose way they are highly enthusiastic over Mr. Carmen's success in the ring and some of the fans have promised him a box of ... Broadway experts think Carmen will have a rough time collecting the dried plums.

Shade and Eagan Promise Fast Bout

George Shade, who is all swelled up since Brother Billy won the welterweight championship of Australia, will entertain Joe Eagan. George wants to be champion of the four-rounders since Billy won the Australian title and he thinks he can get off to a nice start with the eastern middleweight. Down at West Oakland they still insist that Eagan is the best middleweight in these parts with the exception of Battling Ortega and they are goin to be at the ringside to root for him tonight. Eagan says neither he nor anyone else can put up an interesting contest with Denny and he attributes his poor showing last week to Denny's holding proclivities. If Shade will stand up and fight Eaan says he will convince the fans that he is as good as any of them. Nobody ever accused this particular member of the numerous Shade family of dodging the issue so it looks like a regular battle is in store in the semi-final contest of the evening's entertainment.

Pair of Joes Will Battle for Title

The battle of the Joes looks good with Joe Leopold meeting Joe Coffey. The latter has been boxing in wonderful style since he came back to the ring and he should keep the local Joe busy. Leopold has been in strict training since his collision with Battling Vierra and he is ready to set a fast pace. Bobby Ertle is back from Los Angeles and will tackle Al Walker. The latter kid gave Bud Ridley some tough aruments. Ertle is getting better all the time and is quite a favorite with the customers.

Spec Ramies is on the card for an argument with Louie Garcia and Togo Koriyama will swap punches with the animated art gallery Kid Romeo. Harry Fox and Joe Healy will open the show.

E. J. Kaplan, one of the regular judges, has gone to the mountains to give the fish their usual Fall banquet. T. Simpson is looking for someone to sit in in place of the famous fisherman.

Hippo Burns, the demon match maker of Mare Island, has lined up Manuel Azevedo and Johnny Webber for his main event on the 26th. An opponent is being sought for Scotty Diest, who defeated Chuck Roach at the last show.

Walter Moon has assumed the management of the Gordon boys, Anie and Sammy. Walter has long wanted to be a manager but he could not find the right kind of battlers until he enaged the Portland kids. They are both featherweights and don't eat much.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Carl Holling and Herb McQuaid used to pitch for rival bush teams. Yesterday they met under Coast League auspices when the Seals and Oaks tangled and McQuaid won.

Herbie can thank his lucky stars that he emerged on the right end of the score and while thanking his stars he might shake Joe Connolly's hand. Joe pumped one in the bleachers in the eighth with two men in.

The Angels gave the Tigers a fine spanking down south yesterday. Byron Houck was hammered from the hill early in the combat and Piercy later got his.

McAuley crashed a pair of doubles in this game and also collected a single. Boss Killefer got three one-base hits.

The Senators and Beavers failed to play yesterday as the teams were traveling. For the same reason Salt Lake and Seattle did not mingle.

The Oaks and Seals had three tallies apiece when the eighth inning started. Schick got a luck hit and was forced at second by young Mr. Kennedy. Jimmy Caveney made it four straight hits when he singled. Doc Walsh rattled the boards with another hit and then came Mr. Connolly with his four cushion belt. And blooey blooey went the old ball game.

The Seals introduced a new outfielder in Kennedy and he gave Denny Wilie the surprise of his life when he threw him out at the plate from deep right field. Gosh! Denny was mad.

Claude Cooper is still getting his blows. Four out of five was his record yesterday.

Jack Knight got a triple and a pair of singles.

The annual general meeting of the Pacific Coast league will be held in Sacramento at the end of the season.

The Oaks and Seals will clash at the Emeryville lot tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 3:15. It promises to be a real battle.

Last Night's Fights

NEWARK, N. J.—Charley Weinert outpointed Willie Meehan in twelve rounds.

NEW ORLEANS.—Young Denny scored a technical knockout when Eddie O'Hare quit in the ninth round.

BAYONNE, N. J.—Johnny Howard and Danny Lynch went twelve rounds to a draw.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Bob Moha of Milwaukee outclassed Jack Herrick of Kalamazoo, Mich., in a ten-round bout here.

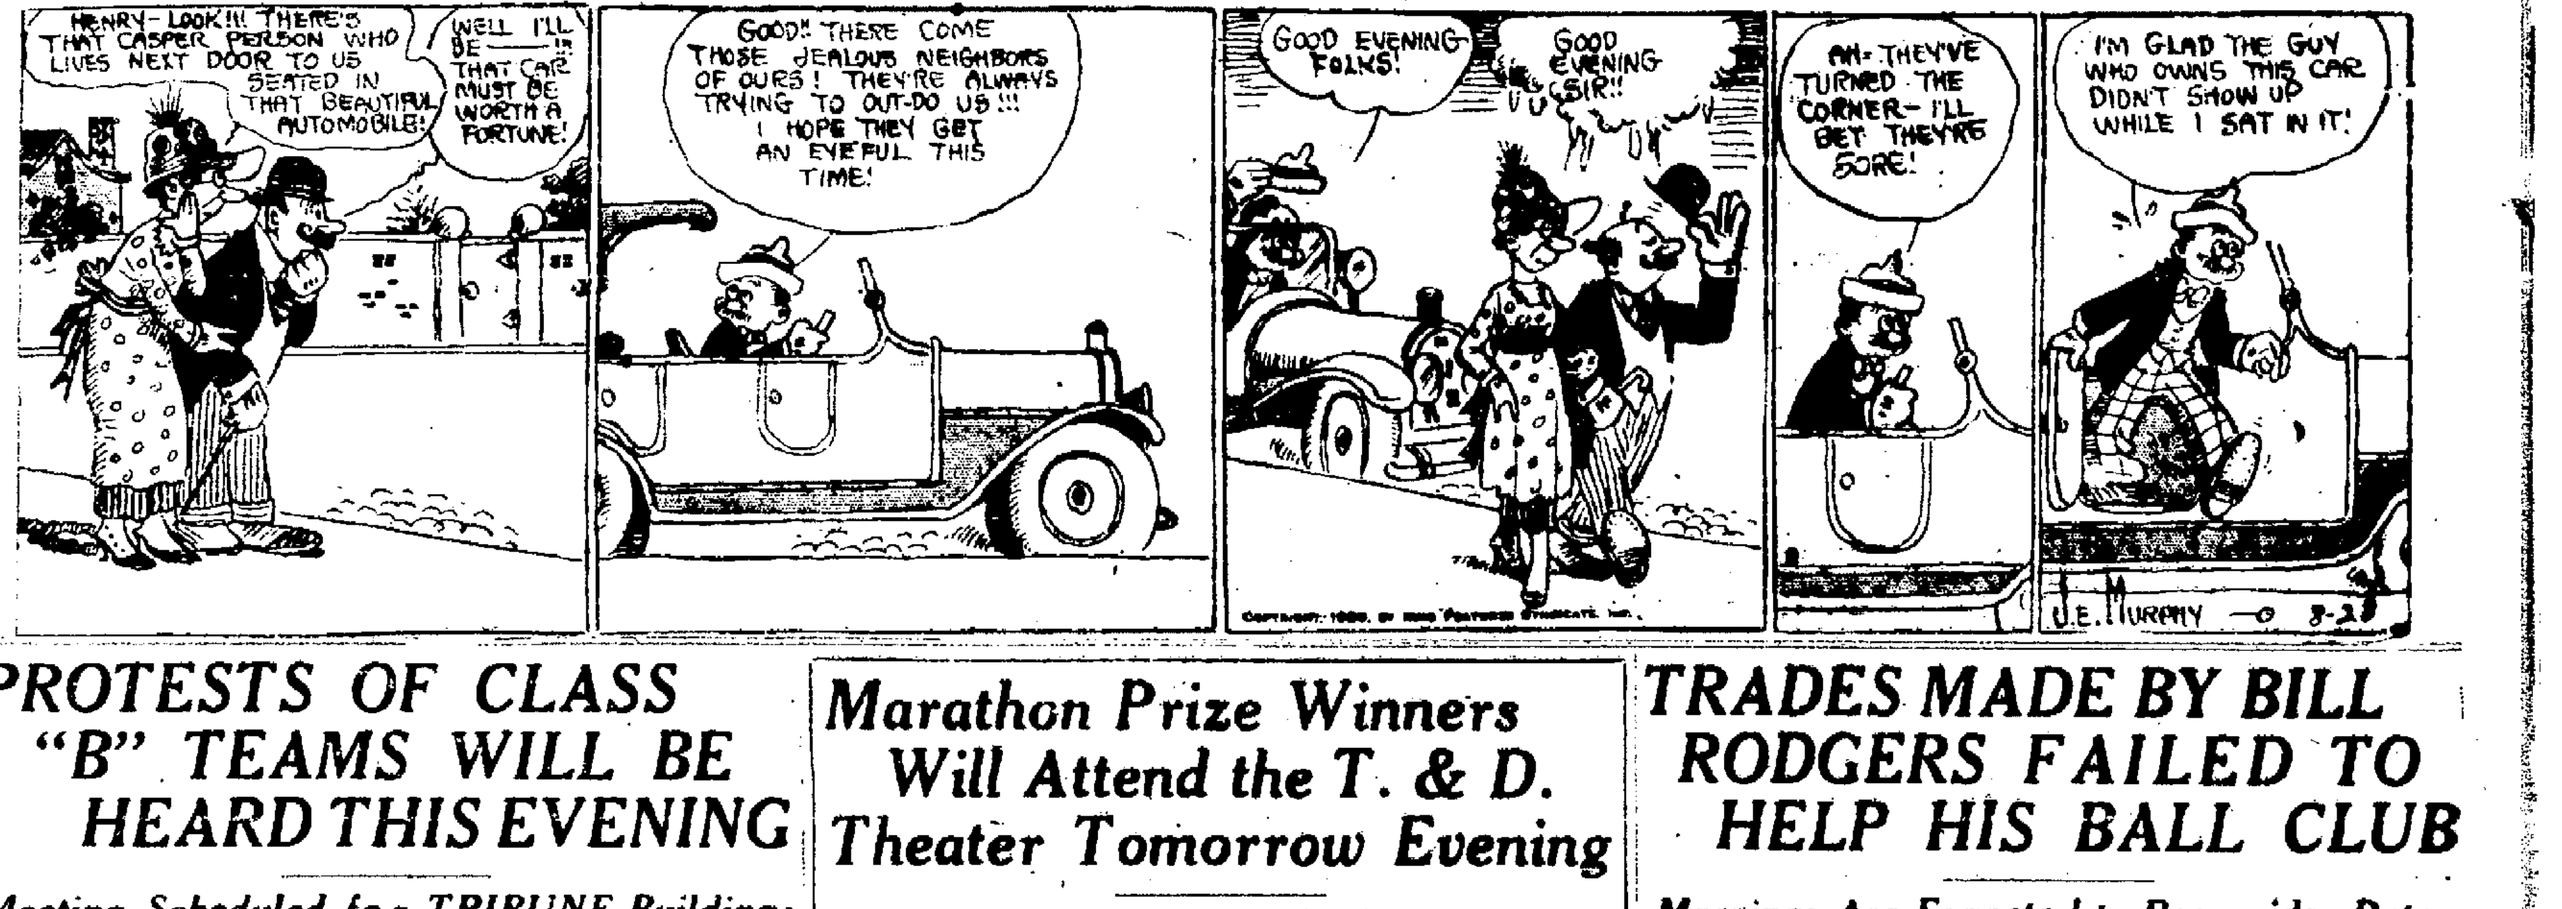

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—Sailor Freeman of Chicago won the newspaper decision over Johnny Lewis of Toledo in a ten-round bout.

Hogan's Hitters Maul Melrose Merchants

The baseball team representing the Hogan Lumber Co. journeyed to Niles Sunday expecting a game with the club of that town, but by some misunderstanding the home team did not show up. The Hogan boys simply HAD to play ball so they hastened back to Melrose, substituted for the Jensen team against the Melrose Merchants. The Lumber team won 7 to 4. De Mello, for the winners, allowed five hits and fanned nine ambitious swatters. The score:

PROTESTS OF CLASS "B" TEAMS WILL BE HEARD THIS EVENING

Meeting Scheduled for TRIBUNE Building; Several Clubs Lose Players

By MAURY PESSANO.

Tonight at The TRIBUNE building, George Hans, chairman of the arbitration board, will call a meeting to take action on the two protests filed last Sunday in the elimination series. The managers of the Central Oakland Merchants, Hayward Natives, Poplar Candy and the Big Brother Elks must be present tonight so that the arbitration board can decide on the protests before next Sunday's games. The Poplar Candy boys are protesting against the Hayward Natives on the grounds that the Natives were able to place but eight eligible men on the field. The Big Brother Elks are protesting on the same grounds. The meeting will be called at 8 o'clock sharp.

All twelve clubs playing in the elimination series for berths in the Class B division of The TRIBUNE League got off to a good start. The Hayward Natives have lost three of their players, two of the boys having played with the Clement Drugs. The Glen Athletics, who were beaten by the drug boys, are also shy a couple of men. Permission has been given to both clubs to sign players, whose names must be in the hands of the league secretary not later than Friday.

CLOTHIERS PLAY STOCKTON

Manuel Duarte, manager of the Halton-Didiers of Alameda, is not going to let his boys hook up with any of the easy clubs around the bay. Last Sunday his team played the Tractors and Sunday Duarte will take his bunch of ball tossers to Stockton for a game with the Sperry Flour club. Not very long ago the Clothiers traveled to Stockton, and lost, but Manuel has added a couple of good players to his club since that time. Lane Shultis will be on the hill for the Alameda Clothiers, while Manager Russell of the Sperrys will use his best bet, Elmer Shea. One week from Sunday Duarte will have the Shasta Limited over at Lincoln Park.

"Frenchie" La Cloustra, pitcher for the California Cotton Millers, was around town all last week. Frenchie's leg is healing up fast, and within the next month he will be able to put on a uniform.

Joe Dooley, Rudy Merani and Red Lynch, all local boys, played with Chowchilla last Sunday against the Modesto club at Modesto. Dooley caught a fine game of ball, holding tip the shoots of Schroder in great style. Merani at first made some great stops, which saved several of the infielders from errors. The only one of the trio to hit safely was Lynch, who got a homer. All three boys will take the field for Goodwin's club again Sunday.

Had the Halton-Didiers of Alameda played a little better inside baseball Sunday against the Tractors of San Leandro the Cherry town boys would have suffered a beating. The Clothiers failed to hunt at the proper time, and lost several good chances to win the contest, after they had tied the score in the eighth inning.

Jimmy Devine, third baseman for Hanford, was the hitting star of the ... hits, one of them going for a double, and played a great game around the difficult corner. He handled six chances with but one miscue. Clark Roldt, another Oakland boy, is doing good work with the same club. Clark is playing right field, and is hitting and fielding in fine style. The Hanford club had a good chance to better their position in the race, but the league leaders proved too strong for them.

Jack Conger, short-stopper for the Tulare club in the Valley League, is doing nicely.

When Art Ross, second-sacker for the Halton-Didiers, sent out his four-base clout with the bags jammed, not a sound was heard from the San Leandro fans. The hit tied the count, but when George Mathews hit one out of the lot the following frame, the Cherry town fans went right up in the air.

Elimination Schedule Arranged for Sunday

The bush ball fans saw six real battles last Sunday when a dozen clubs started the elimination series for berths in the Class B division of The TRIBUNE League. Next Sunday another half dozen regular contests are promised and as some of the teams will lose out in the second set of games, some torrid contests are expected. Here is the schedule for Sunday:

Central Oakland Merchants vs. Clement Drugs at Bay View, 1:30.
Poplar Candy Co. vs. Crystal Laundry at Bay View, 3:30. Umpire Larue.
Peet Bros. vs. Hayward Natives at Hayward, 2:30. Umpire, Zimmerman.
Glen Athletic Club vs. Modern Woodmen at Bay View No. 2, 1:30. Umpire, Nissen.
Money-Back Smiths vs. Expees at Melrose, 11. Umpire, Maisano.

Football Men Getting Ready At California

Two hundred men turned out for Freshman and Varsity teams at enthusiastic sign-up rally held yesterday at the U. C.

The following Big "C" men signed up:

Captain O. C. Majors, L. K. Wilson, L. D. Cranmer, R. G. Murray, L. Pressley, A. C. Rowe, George Latham, K. S. Deeds, S. N. Barnes, J. J. Cline, L. C. Hall.

Uniforms will be issued to all men today and active work of varsity teams will begin at once. The first varsity game will be with Olympic Club on September 25.

Head Coach Andy Smith will be assisted by Nibs Price, Freshman coach of last year, and a new man, Rosenthal. The Frosh will learn their football from Dummy Wells, assisted by Bob Watson, '18, former graduate manager of the University.

Smith stated that the Varsity material would rapidly be cut to two squads, first and second varsity comprising about thirty men, and a second squad of goofs. The first and second varsity will be handled by Smith and his assistant coaches, the goofs by Wells and Watson.

At the first Varsity practice today students will turn out to the initial bleacher rally of the semester. Co-eds will be instructed in the simpler plays. Try-out for assistant yell leaders will also be held.

Oakland Schools May Play Rugby Against San Francisco Boys

The Oakland Athletic League is preparing for a busy season of Rugby and present plans call for a schedule embracing both San Francisco and Oakland high schools. Three trans-bay schools are playing Rugby so a five-game schedule for each school can be arranged.

The classification decided upon by the coaches is 100 pounds; 110 pounds; 120 pounds; 130 pounds and the two school teams, first and second. The games with the San Francisco schools will be played by the unlimited teams.

Shastas Given Trimming by Alameda Beths

Proving that they are just as strong or stronger than they were when they won the Bay Cities Shipyard League pennant, the Alameda Beths took the Shasta Limited nine down the line at Lincoln Park for a 6-to-4 beating. Bajuk started on the mound for the shipbuilders, but was decidedly off form and allowed the opposing team four runs in the first three innings. He was then replaced by Sinclair, who has been the Beths' old standby all this year. Sinclair was right there with his old form and only allowed three hits and no runs throughout the remainder of the game, while his teammates piled up a total of six runs, which easily clinched the game for the shipbuilders. Morris and Jackson constituted the battery for the Shasta Limited team and while they worked well together they were very much outclassed by their rivals, and therefore suffered defeat.

The Alameda Beths promise to be strong contenders in The TRIBUNE Midwinter League this year and would like to play a series with the Halton-Didier and C. L. Best Tractors teams before the opening of the Midwinter League.

3-Year-Old Trotter Breaks World Record

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 15.—Miss Ellen Todd, owned by Albert Pendleton, St. Louis, established a new world's record for 3-year-old trotters on a half-mile track at the Kentucky State Fair races yesterday, trotting the mile in 2:10¼. The old record of 2:11¾ was made by Hugh Miller.

Evans and McDonald Defeat Vardon, Ray

KOKOMO, Ind., Sept. 15.—Chick Evans, national amateur golf champion, and Bob McDonald, Scottish professional of Chicago, in an exhibition match yesterday defeated Ted Ray and Harry Vardon, British professionals, five up.

Marathon Prize Winners Will Attend the T. & D. Theater Tomorrow Evening

The prize winners in the recent TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon will receive their prizes at the T. & D. theater TOMORROW (Thursday) night instead of tonight, as stated in these columns yesterday. The announcement was run one day ahead of time, which accounts for the mistake. Athletes entitled to prizes have been notified to be on hand at the T. & D. tomorrow night at 8:15, when Mayor Davie will award the trophies. Every runner who started in the race will be admitted free through the courtesy of Manager E. L. Perry. Officials of the race will be at the door to O. K. the athletes.

Moving pictures of the last few TRIBUNE Marathons will be shown on the screen. In addition to the Marathon features the famous Babe Ruth will be seen in the act of manufacturing a home run, and the boys can remain for the entire performance.

Tennis Players From the Golden West Win Matches

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Six New York players, four from Boston, three from California and one each from Philadelphia, Cleveland and Kansas City, survived the second round of singles yesterday in the woman's national tennis championship. All the favorites came through and with two exceptions all gained easy victories.

Mrs. Franklin Mallory, three times champion, won from Miss Phillis Walsh of Philadelphia in straight sets, allowing her but three games, all in the second set.

Miss Marion Zinderstein, Boston, disposed of Mrs. Ernest Wiener, Harrison, New York, 6-1, 6-0, while Miss Eleanor Tennant, one of the California stars, defeated Miss Anne Townsend, Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-0.

Although both won in straight sets, Miss Helen Baker, Pacific Coast champion, and Miss Eleanor Coss, New York, were forced to extend themselves.

Miss Baker had no trouble in winning the first set from Miss Marguerite Davis, the northwest title-holder, but the second set went to deuce before the California girl won. Mrs. Robert Leroy, New York, gave Miss Goss a hard battle, winning four games in each set.

The first round in the women's doubles and in the mixed doubles were completed yesterday. The star match was that between Mrs. G. Wightman, national champion, and Mrs. Mallory, who opposed Miss Corrine Gould, St. Louis, former clay doubles champion, and Miss Davis. The westerners put up a stiff fight in the opening set.

Yanks and Sox Will Clash in Big Series

New York Club Now Tops the List in the American League

By H. C. HAMILTON
International News Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—New York had visions today of a personally conducted world's series following the climb of the Yankees in first place and the continued even trend of the Dodgers toward the championship of the National League. Neither the Giants nor the Reds could take advantage of the Brooklyn reverse, which left matters standing just where they were when the Dodgers gained their commanding lead two days ago.

The ease with which the Yankees plastered the Cleveland and Detroit clubs in their last five games gave great encouragement to followers of that team's fortunes. Inability of pitchers to deliver in the past, it is believed now, has become only a memory. Five out of six games on the victory side of the ledger is a feat of great promise for the Yankee adherents. The tightest little race the American League has seen in years is now a little looser than for several days, due to the jump of the Yankees into first place. The teams stood today:

	Won	Lost	Pct.	To Play
New York	88	53	.624	13
Cleveland	84	52	.618	18
Chicago	85	55	.607	14

INDIANS VS. ATHLETICS

New York and Chicago will rest today but the Indians will play a postponed game with the Athletics. Tomorrow the Yankees go into Chicago to take a last crack at the White Sox. If they can take that hurdle as impressively as they performed in Cleveland and Detroit, New Yorkers will consider the pennant as good as won, even though the Yankees are still booked for an appearance against Jimmy Burke's trouble-making Browns. The Washington club, which has been annoying the White Sox, will go to Cleveland for a series beginning tomorrow.

The Giants will loaf today but the Dodgers finish off their series with the Cubs and the Reds will again meet Philadelphia. The Brooklyn lead over Cincinnati and New York now is so strong that nothing short of an absolute reversal of form can keep the Dodgers out of the world's series. The beating the Cubs gave them was the first they have suffered in eleven games.

TRADES MADE BY BILL RODGERS FAILED TO HELP HIS BALL CLUB

Moreings Are Expected to Reconsider Determination to Sell Their Baseball Interests

There isn't a chance of Sacramento being dropped from the Coast League circuit. This is the opinion of J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oaks, who is in closer touch with baseball affairs than anyone else in the organization. Vancouver and Tacoma are ready to bid for the Senatorial franchise, but it is going to remain in the Capital City, says J. Cal. From other sources it has been learned that despite the lowly position of the Senators in the pennant race the club has made money this season and will make a whole lot more next year with a better ball club. The only change that is likely to take place is in the managership, as Bill Rodgers has failed to make good as boss of the club. The trades that Rodgers made this season turned out very bad for Sacramento, as he let go of a raft of good talent and got only one good player in exchange.

Roxy Middleton, Brick Eldred and Bill Stumpf, former Senators, practically "made" the Seattle team. Kopp is a valuable man, but Middleton and Stumpf plug up two holes, where Kopp can play in one position only.

Eldred Proves Good Man for Siwashes

Nobody knows what the trouble was between Rodgers and Eldred, but when Bill peddled the player to Seattle he lost one of the hardest hitting outfielders in the league. The best evidence that the trades did not help the Senators is the position of the club in the basement. The pitchers obtained from Cleveland in the Mails deal have not made good; in fact, neither Faeth or Niehaus look to be of Coast League caliber. Whoever has the running of the Sacramento club next year will have to start building from the ground up with Kopp and McGaffigan as the nucleus of the new club. The chances are the Moreings will reconsider their plan to sell the ball club. Louis is said to have made up his mind to sell when his brother Bill was taken sick. Louis has many other interests besides baseball and he found he could not take care of them all and do justice to any of them. The annual meeting of the Coast League will be held in Sacramento at the close of the season and the Moreings will likely be persuaded to sit in the game again.

Fred Murphy Loses To Young George

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Young George, Los Angeles welterweight, was awarded a referee's decision over Fred Murphy in a four-round bout at the Vernon arena here last night. In the semi-windup Tommy O'Brien, local lightweight, was given a decision over Bert Forbes of Seattle.

The Game Will Be Over By Christmas

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 15.—Brilliant bowling by William Clothier, change bowler on the Germantown Cricket Club, enabled the local eleven to retire the Incogniti team of British cricketers in their first innings for 215 runs. Clothier took seven wickets for 65 runs. Germantown had scored 32 runs for four wickets when stumps were drawn for the day. They will continue their first innings today.

SING HERBS RELIEVE HEART TROUBLE

Reciting how the Sing Herb Specialists, well-known Chinese herbists, relieved him of a serious case of heart trouble after many doctors had failed to better his condition, D. S. Sayer, 1544 Spruce street, Berkeley, has written the following letter:
May 26, 1920.
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
For twenty years I have been a victim of heart trouble which was so acute that for the past fifteen years I have been refused life insurance by all of the insurance companies. During that time I have consulted many doctors without getting relief or hope of cure. Five months ago I consulted the Sing Herb Specialists and began taking the course of treatments prescribed by them. Now my condition is greatly improved and I feel infinitely better. I believe I would be cured today but for the fact that my treatments were interrupted when I left the city for a time. I am continuing the treatments and expect to be cured within a short time now. I feel much better than I have felt for the last twenty years.

THIRTY YEARS OF MISERY FROM BLOOD DISORDERS

Angelo Johnson.

During this long period I suffered untold agonies from painful eruptions due to impurities of the blood. I went from one hospital to another and spent my entire earnings year after year, but obtained no relief.

Finally I went to the Fong Wan Herb Co. and drank their herb tea. I began to improve immediately and now, after only three months of this mild and harmless treatment, my system is thoroughly cleansed and my sores all gone. Out of gratitude for this marvelous relief after thirty years of despair, I am giving the company my photo and testimonial. My address can be obtained at their office.

INDUSTRIAL NEWS EAST WEST SHIPPING DAY'S EVENTS IN WORLD OF FINANCE

LARGE INCREASE IN U. S. EXPORTS SHOWN BY BANK

"The very latest figures" of the exports of manufacturers, as given out by the National City Bank of New York, present a strong argument to sustain the contention that American manufacturers have gained a permanent place in the foreign markets of the world, and one which is destined to grow in favor. From the figures presented, it appears that foreign patrons are not only growing in numbers, but also in confidence and appreciation.

FIGURES FOR JULY.

For the purpose of illustration, export of manufacture for the month of July, just passed, and for the seven months ending with July 31, of this year, are made use of, the result being as follows: The total exports of manufactured goods for July, 1920, including both classes, "manufactured ready for use," and "manufactured for further use in manufactures, aggregate $343,000,000, as compared with $234,000,000 for July, 1919; and in the seven months ending with July amounted to $2,451,000,000, compared with $2,000,000,000 in the same months of last year. Of this increase the chief amounts were in those classifications known as "manufactured ready for use." the figures being as follows: July, 1920, $264,000,000; July, 1919, $167,000,000. For the first seven months of 1920 exports of manufactured goods, "ready for use," amounted to $1,849,000,000, as compared with 1,479,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

FIRST SEVEN MONTHS.

This exportation of manufactured goods for the first seven months of 1920, to the amount of $11,000,000 daily, compared with $7,500,000 daily, for the same period of 1919, if continued throughout the year, would result in exports of this kind, aggregating $4,200,000,000, as compared with $1,177,000,000 for 1913.

Exports to North American, South American, Oceanican, African and Asiatic countries, for July, 1920, were $310,000,000 as compared with $164,000,000 for the same period last year. Exports to these parts of the world are more than 50% manufactured goods, and in every instance the volume of trade is growing by leaps and bounds, thus showing the increasing popularity of United States manufactories.

Franklin Bequest Tells Tale of Thrift

"A Little Book of Great Import," published by Lee, Higginson & Company, deals with the famous bequest of Benjamin Franklin to the city of Boston and the state of Massachusetts. The matter recalled has a deep financial interest. It bears a lesson of thrift so convincing that financial journals of the country are giving it space.

Franklin was appointed as representative of his state and city to England, at "the handsome salary" of 2000 pounds per year, and so grateful was the beneficiary of this favor that he provided in his will a bequest of 1000 pounds, to be kept at interest for 100 years, at 5%. At the end of the time 31-181 of the accumulations were to be put to "public use" and the balance placed at 5% interest for another hundred years, at the end of which time the accumulations were to be divided, one-fourth to be given the city of Boston and three-fourths given the State of Massachusetts.

The plan worked out in this wise: At the end of the first 100 years, in 1891, $431,383.62 had been accumulated, of which $329,300.48 was turned over to the city of Boston for "Public Work," and the remainder, $102,085.15 was started on a one hundred year earning career, at 5%. At this rate of interest the latter sum should increase to something above a total accumulation of $6,000,000, at maturity.

RAILS GIVE FIRM TONE TO ENTIRE STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Much of the firmness manifested at the opening of the day's stock market was due to the further strength of rails. Gains of the previous day were irregularly extended, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western adding 2½ points to yesterday's substantial advance. Oils were next in favor, Pan-American and American Petroleums rising 1½ and 2 points respectively. Shippings also recorded further improvements under lead of Atlantic Gulf and specialties were featured by Retail Stores, Sumatra Tobacco and Corn Products. Exchange on London forfeited a part of yesterday's recovery.

Rails dominated the active forenoon, Atlantic Coast line, Chesapeake and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson, Western Maryland second preferred, and Kansas City Southern rising 1 to 3 points. Denver and Rio Grande preferred was an exception, losing three points. Oils made further progress, notably Houston, Invincible, Middle States and Royal Dutch, but Sinclair lost ground. Among steels and equipments Crucible, Great Northern Ore, Vanadium and U. S. Steel also American Locomotive and Pullman rose 1 to 1½.

Tobaccos scored further gains and shippings and coppers strengthened. United Railways preferred and National Cloak and Suit were strongest of the obscure specialties. American Woolen, Industrial Alcohol and Republic Motor were reactionary. The new French 8¼s rose to the high record of 102¾ but reacted on profit taking.

Metals were conspicuously strong at midday, American Smelting and U. S. Smelting showing gains of 2 points and Utah and Anaconda Coppers one point. Mexican oils also increased their lead but Denver and Rio Grande preferred sustained a further loss on reports of an adverse court decision.

Call money's decline to six per cent later aided the further improvement of the list but prices reacted in the final dealings on selling of steels and equipments. The closing was irregular.

RICE AND BEET HARVEST BEGINS

Last week was subnormal in temperature and brought rain in the northern tier of California counties, according to the Weather Bureau summary of crop conditions prepared by District Forecaster Edward A. Beals. Fog along the coast which brought moisture to the meadows was of some aid there. The subnormality of temperature was 4 to 7 degrees inland and about 4 on the coast.

Water is being drawn from the rice fields and harvesting has started in a few localities. Sugar beets are maturing.

Peach drying has about finished, being ahead of prunes and raisins. Santa Clara tomatoes are being gathered and canning is on but the growers complain of a poor market. There is a fine fig crop in the San Joaquin but a lack of cars for shipment of green fruit.

Fuming for San Jose scale is on among citrus growers.

The ground generally is too dry for plowing except by power machinery. The normal bay region temperature last week was 59 without precipitation.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—New weakness developed after a moderate rally at the opening. The start which varied from unchanged figures to ¾c higher with December 2.40 to 2.40¾ and March 2.36½ to 2.36¾ were followed by general gains and then by a break to well below yesterday's finish.

Wet weather had only a transient bullish effect on corn. Rural offerings were liberal, and sellers outnumbered buyers in the pit. After opening one cent lower to ⅜ advance, with December 1.14¼, the market scored slight general gains, and then weakened all around.

Oats were firm, but dull, opening ⅜ off to ¼ up; December 66½ and later hardening a little.

Higher quotations on hogs strengthened provisions.

Word of some export business gave comparative strength to the market later. Prices closed unsettled 1½c net lower to a like advance, with December 2.41 to 2.41¼ and March 2.35.

The Waterfront

Captain D. M. Scott of Mobile arrived in this port today from Seattle, where he has purchased the schooner A. F. Coats from the Coast Shipping Company, for which he paid $50,000. Two years ago this vessel was valued at twice that amount, but when she was built nineteen years ago at Hoquiam, Wash., her cost was about what she brought at this sale. She is built of wood and is 417 tons register. Captain Scott has purchased several wooden sailing craft at this port since the war for his company, and these craft have all been sent to the Atlantic coast.

A cablegram from London today, states that the steamer Sinasta is off Queenstown, with engine trouble. She is en route to Liverpool from Astoria with flour.

Four new American steel steamers have been chartered today to take cargoes to the United Kingdom. They are the Culbrson, to load flour at Portland; Chincha, to load ties on Puget Sound; Clausius, and the Westchester will also load ties at the same port for England.

Now that the Bering sea fleet of codfishing craft is home for the season, and only a small catch, it will not interfere with the codfish market on this coast as several Japanese fishing schooners are en route to the Pacific coast from Okhotsk sea with full cargoes of codfish.

The Dollar Steamship Company has taken over the steel steamer Admiral Wainwright, which will be used as an off-shore freighter from this port.

Eighteen of the Alaska salmon vessels, which returned from Bristol Bay this season, are in winter quarters at East Oakland harbor, where they will remain until next spring. The rest of the fleet that arrived home are unloading on the other side of the bay, and will tow over to this side when their cargoes are out. The fleet of salmon vessels from southeastern Alaska is now ready to sail for home, and by the end of this month the entire fleet will be back for the season.

EDUCATION AND CHARITY RAISE TAX RATE 62 PCT.

Alameda county's increased tax rate is due entirely to the greater amount of money expended for educational purposes and for charity, according to the annual report of County Auditor E. F Garrison, which has been filed with the Board of Supervisors

The expenditures for these items increased by 62 per cent over the previous year, the report shows. Garrison points out that the supervisors actually reduced the expenditures for the cost of maintaining the county government during the ensuing year, despite the increased cost of material and labor, but were forced to make a higher tax rate in order to provide for the schools and the needy. Here are some of the features of the report:

It cost the county government this year for the maintenance of the Board of Education $4,169,649.00, as against last year's figure of $3,128,967.27, an increase of $1,040,681 73, while charities maintenance this year amounted to $924,488.79, as against last year's disbursement of $685,051.52, showing an increase of $239,437.27.

WIDOW'S PENSION.

The largest increase, however, was under the caption of "widows' pension," which increased from $88,414.96 to $209,970.27.

The County Hospital and the Arroyo Sanitarium at Livermore also come under the head of charities. The cost of maintenance for both institutions amounted this year to $371,797.19, as against last year of $331,788.89, an increase of $40,008.30.

This does not include, however, the additions and constructions at the County Infirmary, Arroyo Sanitarium, or the new Highland Hospital, which amounted to $440,718.83, which amount came out of the revenue funds.

From the amount charged to charities, the sum of $16,657.85 must be deducted, which is the State of California's quota toward tubercular patients at Arroyo Sanitarium; also the sum of $123 241.06 for the widows' pension.

The revenues from last year amounted to $7,765 909 12, received as per the following sources: General taxes, $4,086,552 66, district taxes (special school tax), $2,133,002.55; penalties and interest on delinquent taxes, $82,198.39; justices' fees and fines, $174,315.70; interest on bank deposits, $62,235.38; State contributions, $1,094,786.19; miscellaneous revenues, $132,518.25. Total, $7,765,909.12

The total expenditures for last year are as follows General government, $781,285.67; protection of property, $90 097 25, health conservation and sanitation, $17,[illegible] highways and bridges $239,714.75, charities and corrections, $924,488 79, education, $4,169,649.65; miscellaneous, $72,660 83; bond interest, $173,767 81; new construction and equipment, $842,520.81; bond redemptions $203,625.00. Total, $7,615,279.23.

$25,000 TO TRY REDS.

Under the head of county government, the only increase of any note is in the superior courts, where the syndicalism cases were tried, the extra cost being about $25,000.

To give the taxpayers a general idea of the business transacted through the county auditor's office last year, there was received and disbursed over $20,000,000, for which a permit must be issued to deposit same with county treasurer, and a warrant drawn for all disbursements. The number of warrants issued last year amounted to over 89,000, being an increase over the previous year of 19 960

Traveling Clinic, Carrying Medical Aid For Sick Has Begun Tour of Country

When you cannot go to the clinic, here is the clinic that comes to you. Purchased by Christmas Red Cross seals and operated by the California Tuberculosis Association, it is beginning a statewide tour in Alameda county. A TRIBUNE photographer caught the big white motor and its corps of nurses and driver as it arrived in Oakland yesterday. They are, from left to right: MISS EDITH PERRY, MISS RUTH CALLAGHAN and JACK OBERLE.

California Tuberculosis Association Plans to Alleviate Spread of Dread Disease

The Traveling Clinic has arrived. It began its initial local trip when the big motor truck, equipped with the latest apparatus known to science and with moving picture machine, started from the Alameda County Public Health Center to East Oakland, where it was stationed throughout yesterday, moving to South Berkeley today. With physicians and nurses in attendance, free medical examination and advice was proffered men, women and children.

The Traveling Clinic is owned and operated by the California Tuberculosis Association and under the direction of Mrs. Edith Tate-Thompson, representative of the State Board of Health, has been assigned to tour the State in the interests of better health. Its purchase and equipment was made possible through the Christmas Red Cross Seals last year. Alameda county was chosen to inaugurate its service by reason of its record in health work From here the Traveling Clinic starts on an itinerary of California.

Clinic hours will be kept from 9 a. m. to 9 p m. From 1 to 3 p. m. the motorized examination room will be opened for inspection to the public, conference and making of appointments for examination. Afternoon and evening hours are from 3 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

CHOLERA IN VILNA

'AD' CLUB SHOWS 'HOUSE ORGANS'

It required most of the time of several assistant managers of the Hotel Oakland last evening to explain to the women who went to the hotel eager to see the exhibit of house organs of the Oakland Advertising Club that a house organ is not a musical instrument.

"Of course a house organ is a musical instrument My mother used to play one years ago when we had our home in Iowa" insisted one woman to Robert Mitchell, assistant manager at the hotel

"No madam, a house organ is not a musical instrument, a house organ is a magazine Let me show you the exhibit," was Mitchell's reply as he led the way to the Advertising club's exhibit.

House organ is an advertising term used to denote a periodical published by a business house for advertising purposes as, for instance, the "Key System News" the "Bubbles" of the Eastbay Water Company, and "Bank of Italy Life" of the Bank of Italy.

It developed that the women who called at the hotel last night were not the only ones who were learning things. Mitchell, who explained it to the women, had only learned the distinction himself a short time before

"How can you put 600 organs in the South room?" he is said to have asked Secretary Charles Chase of the Ad Club when arrangements for the exhibit were being made, "the room isn't big enough"

BLIND SCHOOL PROBE PROMISED

An investigation into the appointment of John F. Dondero as boys' supervisor at the California School for the Deaf and the Blind at Berkeley over the protests of alumni of the State institution, was promised today by Elmer E. Nichols Berkeley attorney and member of the board of directors.

That the protests of persons objecting to Dondero's affiliation with the school would be heard at the next meeting of the board in two weeks' time and a thorough investigation given to the matter was Nichols' statement.

PEACE ASKED FOR SCHOOL

"Dondero's position at the school is a comparatively small one and seems a little thing to create such a fuss," says Nichols. "He was appointed only when another man chosen for the work was unable to take his position, and his retention at the school depends upon his ability to make good on the job It is too bad that the two factions which are dividing the blind cannot get together so that peace can reign in the affairs of the school"

Seconding charges made by Ernest Leslie, student at the University of California and president of the California Association for Self-Supporting Blind, that Dondero is unfitted for the position which he now holds, Colonel John P Irish, president of the Home for the Adult Blind in Oakland declared today that the blind supervisor was a "menace" to the boys of the school; that he, as a citizen, will join with the alumni of the school in protesting Dondero's appointment to the authorities and that he will be joined by other citizens whom he declares are cognizant of Dondero's alleged objectionable record, was Colonel Irish's statement.

POLITICS CHARGED

"The Berkeley institution for the blind has always been looked upon as a big cog in the political machine of California" declares Colonel Irish. "That explains many things that happen there and not until the school is freed from politics will there be a change for the better. I am thoroughly in sympathy with the agitation by Mr. Leslie and his associates They represent probably the best types of manhood and womanhood among the graduates of the State school"

FLEECED BY GIRL, IS COMPLAINT OF RICH BOND MAN

Oscar Waugh, aged bond broker of Sacramento, appealed to the Oakland police today in an effort to recover a $1000 diamond ring and $670 in cash which he alleges are in the possession of Miss Lucille Rieulou Waugh told the police he met Miss Rieulou at the Battery house house near Sacramento where she was employed as a waitress. He later came to Oakland where Miss Rieulou joined him.

Late yesterday Waugh, who has been stopping at the St. Mark hotel, said he went with the girl to a local bank where he drew $700 from his account. He declares he then went to the sidewalk, where he had left the girl, and gave her $670 and a diamond ring to keep for him until he could return to the bank and close his account. He placed $30 of the amount he had drawn in his wallet.

When Waugh returned to the sidewalk the girl was gone, he told the police. He waited an hour and then returned to the hotel, expecting to find her there. He waited there until after dark and after a search of the streets, without result, he decided to notify the police.

Waugh, according to the police, came to Oakland from Sacramento in a taxi cab.

Police Face Trial As Result of Raid

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—As a result of recent raids on redlight resorts on Hyde and Stockton streets, four patrolmen are to be tried by the police commission for allowing the places to operate on their beats. Evidence against the resorts and the patrolmen was obtained by Captain John O'Meara, who led raids on the Fairfield Hotel, Stockton and Broadway, and on a house at 647 Hyde street. A number of persons were arrested at each place, and at the former it is said an elaborate set of electric alarm signals was installed. The four policemen are. Wheel Chair Girl Seeks Work

Cripple, Brave, Capable, in Need

Is there a job in all the bay cities for a young woman who must ride in a wheel chair?

"Don't you think I should be given a chance," is the plea which comes from the heart of Miss Patsy Callaghan. Of course that is not her real name, but it will do until somebody is interested enough to offer her a place where her pride can be satisfied.

For Patsy is an independent young woman, although she must ride in her chair and it hurts to have her mother take all the care of her when she is fully capable to take care of herself.

"Nobody wants me," she says. Now Patsy is 18, but she is in good health all but the weak spine which will not let her go about like other girls or climb stairs. A year ago she gallantly went through with her course in stenography and typing and she understands the work of a cashier.

"I have tried every way I know to obtain a position but nobody wants me. I believe that every woman should work. I am not sick. I can do the work. I only want a chance," she says.

A few teachers and a few writers have occasionally thrown typing Patsy's way, but it is not enough. She wants her own job. That is why she appealed to Mrs. Helen Power, director of the State Employment Bureau.

Is there a place for her in this whole big city?

Candidate Ranks as 'Pooh-Bah'

John W. Fowler Has Many Posts

Like the famous Pooh-Bah of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado," John W. Fowler of Oakland, nominated for the assembly from the Thirty-ninth district, is a multiple official, or will be if the Progressive party holds a convention in Sacramento September 21, as is its right

According to Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, Fowler not only must preside at the convention, but also must be the delegates, the secretary, the nominees, introduce himself, address himself, accept his own nomination by himself and otherwise conduct these political affairs, for he is the only accredited delegate.

Since there is a danger that should Fowler oppose himself for office, the deadlock that would develop would be hopeless, there is a possibility that he will, as chairman, announce to himself as delegate, that a convention at this time would be inadvisable and, as delegate, vote "aye" to a motion put by himself as chairman, that the session be dispensed with.

The Prohibitionists are a little better off but still face a deadlock inasmuch as Charles H. Randall, nominee for Congress, and Miss Marie Brehm, nominee for the State Senate from the Thirty-ninth district, are the only persons qualified to attend a convention.

The Republicans, Democrats and Socialists are all in a position to hold workable conventions.

Under the law the conventions nominate presidential electors declare party policies and choose committeemen. The accredited delegates are the nominees of each hold-over senatorial district.

S. O. S. for Husky Adonises

Police Supply Running Short

Wanted—twenty-five to fifty, handsome, husky, fearless, dependable, stalwart, intelligent men able to catch thieves and keep away from pitfalls and temptations. Applicants must be 25 to 35 years old, and residents of the state for five years. Salary $150 per month to start. Promotion possible. Apply Oakland Civil Service Department, City Hall.

Although no advertising of this sort has yet been tried by the Civil Service Board, that august body admitted last night that the city of Oakland is having a hard time to fill its vacancies in the police department, and has started a movement to attract candidates for examination.

The first move, made last night, was to extend for sixty days the time limit for examinations for patrolmen.

In order that the proper number of first-class men may be selected, it is desired that several hundred be examined if possible so that the city may have the pick.

OAKLAND WINS 1921 CONGRESS OF CAL. MOTHERS

Oakland has been awarded the 1921 California Congress of Mothers.

By action of the state executive board meeting in San Francisco yesterday, the invitation of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs extended at the convention in May in Los Anegles, was officially accepted. More than 800 delegates were registered at the annual meeting last spring with an additional 1500 mothers in attendance, recording the largest women's convention ever held in the state. It is anticipated that the Oakland meeting will outnumber the southern.

The Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Exchange, civic organiaztions and women's clubs will be invited to cooperate with the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs.

Exposition Company Sues Advertising Firm

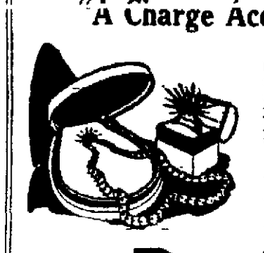

Hearing of a suit growing out of the recent land show by the Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition at the Municipal Auditorium was held by Judge E. J. Brown today. The company demands $979.25 from Arthur Harbrave, alleged to be due as its share of money collected for advertising in the exposition program published by him. Hargrave says the company failed to live up to its agreement to provide $2000 worth of advertising from various counties of California exhibiting at the fair and $1600 more from private exhibitors, as well as a portion of the money appropriated by the Oakland city council in aid of the project.
